

BY THREAD OF EXPERT TESTIMONY

HARRY THAW'S FATE NOW
HANGS BY LATEST SHIFT
IN GAME.

DEFENSE NEARLY COMPLETED

And Defendant's Attorneys are Confident—Thaw Rejoices Over Verdict in Strothers' Case.

New York, March 7.—The latest shift in the game being played to save the life of Harry K. Thaw, the young man's fate again hangs by a thread of expert testimony—this time, the testimony of two alien's, Drs. Hammond and Jelfie. Having skillfully driven home in the minds of the jurors the idea of justification under the "unwritten law" Thaw's attorneys have now virtually cast aside this defense and stand squarely before the jury on this issue:

Harry Thaw was insane from the time Evelyn Nesbit told him her story in Paris until sometime subsequent to the killing of Stanford White and cannot be held responsible for his acts; he has now recovered his mental equilibrium and cannot be confined in a mad-house. At the conclusion of the testimony of Mrs. Wm. Thaw last evening, the defense had virtually ended the first half of its case—the proving that Thaw was insane at the time of the shooting. From this time forth the efforts of Thaw's attorneys will be along lines directly opposite to those pursued to date—tending to show that Thaw is sane.

THAW IS SANE.
Though Doctors Hammond and Jelfie, Thaw's lawyers are confident of proving that he is now sane. Drs. Wagner and Evans, who faced Jerome's cross-examination for nearly six days without contradiction, strengthening the defense's case, if anything, under the fire laid the basis for the testimony of the experts who will insist Thaw is now sane.

Drs. Hammond and Jelfie, the experts on whom now devolves the duty of proving Thaw sane at present, began their study of him at a later period. They have watched him closely every day in the court room. In this way, though the different corps of experts a distinct line has been drawn for the period of Thaw's alleged insanity. This same drawing of a line of distinction was carefully observed by Drs. Evans and Wagner in their testimony. On the visit's they made before August 8, they found Thaw still apparently insane. On that date he showed signs of improvement.

Delmas announced yesterday he would sum up his examination of the experts yet to be heard in a hypothetical question, covering every point of the case. This will be the climax of the defense. When the experts have answered, Thaw's lawyers will rest content, satisfied they have presented the winning case.

THREATENING LETTERS.
Jerome made public today the fact that he had received a large number of letters, threatening him in case Thaw is convicted. They come from many states and the police have some of them.

HEARS STROTHERS VERDICT.
News of the acquittal of the Strothers brothers was taken to Thaw today. "I am mighty glad to hear it," said Thaw, smiling, when reminded that the defense of the young Virginians had been the "unwritten law."

INSANE MUSICIAN ATTACKS KAISER BUT IS SUBDUED

Berlin, March 7.—Kaiser William's life was seriously threatened at a concert in the white hall at the palace last night when Herr Kupke, a member of the orchestra, suddenly went raving mad and tried to attack the emperor. The officers who occupied seats near the Kaiser, prevented Kupke from assaulting and perhaps killing the monarch. Kupke started the audience by uttering a piercing shriek and rushing from his place waving his arms wildly and shrieking at the top of his voice. He savagely attacked everyone who tried to stop him.

the Kaiser, who occupied a seat in the front row. Officers of the emperor's suite grappled with the madman. He fought viciously and several times almost broke away before he was overpowered. He was finally ejected from the hall and conveyed to a madhouse.

During the struggle with the maniac the emperor was the coolest man in the hall, but the audience was in a panic.

Dust Explosion.

Huntington, W. Va., March 7.—As a result of a dust explosion in the Ethel coal mine, on Dingess run, near Logan, W. Va., Ed Grover, a miner, whose home is at Bidwell, O., was killed, and several others injured, two of them, John Henson and an unknown white man, seriously. The cause of the explosion is not known. The mine was only recently opened.

NEW SKYSCRAPER TO BE ERECTED BY MR. ELI HULL

ON THE SITE JUST SOUTH OF THE NEWARK TRUST COMPANY'S BUILDING.

Old Structure Now Occupied by the Sparta Confectionery Will Be Torn Down

Newark is to have another skyscraper.

As a result of winning the lawsuit against the Sparta Confectionery company, for possession of his building next to the new Trust building, West Side, Mr. Eli Hull has decided to erect a handsome new 6-story building on the site of the two story structure. Work is to be commenced within the coming two weeks and Mr. Hull states that the new structure will be ready for occupancy by September 1st next.

As is known, Mr. Hull and the managers of the confectionery company have had considerable litigation over the desire to gain possession of the building. Two law suits have resulted and in the second, Mr. Hull was victorious. The Sparta Confectionery company claimed a seven year lease on the building but Mr. Hull maintained that reason of violation of their contract the proprietors should vacate the building, all which they occupy.

The new building will occupy the entire ground, 28 1-2 feet, frontage and with a depth of 126 feet, or, in other words, extending to the alley in the rear.

The plans, which are complete, are in the hands of a well known architect, and call for an immense amount of material. At present, Mr. Hull declines to name the approximate cost of the new structure. The building proper will be of reinforced concrete, after the structural style of the Ingalls building at the corner of Vine and Fourth streets, Cincinnati. The concrete will be strengthened with immense steel girders.

The building will be so designed as to accommodate a thoroughly modern department store, each floor being occupied by one entire room. The whole will be strictly fireproof. Two elevators will accommodate freight and passengers, and an immense winding staircase will occupy one corner of the structure.

It is understood that a number of important houses are bidding for the occupancy of the building when completed, one local firm in particular, being named. Mr. Hull stated to the Advocate Thursday noon, however, that he will not consider the propositions of any of the firms until the building is near completion.

According to the present plans the building will be very high, the top of it reaching within two stories of the top of the Trust company's building, adjoining on the north. The present structure will be razed as soon as the Sparta can vacate.

WEDDING AT BEDSIDE.

Hamilton, March 7.—A college romance ended in a bedside wedding at Oxford Wednesday when Miss Ruth Bowman, aged 17, became the bride of Elmer Hartle of Kenton, O., a senior in Miami university. The wedding was to have taken place last Wednesday, but Mr. Hartle became very ill and two operations were performed to save his life. He has now passed the danger point and the Rev. C. A. Boyard performed the ceremony at the invalid's bedside.

LANCASTER HAS BIG OIL WELL.

Lancaster, March 7.—While drilling for gas on the Winegardner farm between Pleasantville and Rushville, two and one-half miles east of Pleasantville, Wednesday afternoon the drillers struck what promises to be a good oil well. When the word was sent to this city at 5 o'clock the well was then 2200 feet deep and the tools were only in the sand 10 feet, with 350 feet of oil of a fine quality in the well.

"UNCLE JOE" AND PARTY OFF TO PANAMA.

WILLIAM D. MCKINLEY - C. JAMES S. SHERMAN - JOS. G. CANNON - J. VAN VORCK - J. A. TAWNEY - CHAS. CURTIS

New York, March 7.—White flags fluttered from aloft and alongside the band of the Letter Carriers' Association played "Auld Lang Syne," from the deck of a tug, Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the last House of Representatives stood with eight other members of Congress on the promenade deck of the Bluecher, of the Hamburg-American line, and waved farewell as the steamship left her pier in Hoboken on Tuesday for a crucial to the West Indies and Panama. "Uncle Joe" was the center of the party, and a delegation of Republicans, led by Henry Haackel of this city, and Joseph Plunket, of Brooklyn, in behalf of the Letter Carriers' Association, thanked him for his aid in passing a bill increasing the salaries of a postal clerk. The delegation also gave him a floral piece five feet high. The ship was dressed in honor of the distinguished company. "This isn't an official affair in any sense of the word," said "Uncle Joe."

"We are the guests of Representative McKinley, and we shall stay aboard the ship most of the time. Where she stops in the West Indies we shall go ashore, and this applies to the isthmus of Panama when we reach Colon. In the 36 hours that we are allowed there we shall see as much of the canal as is possible. Perhaps we'll dig a shovel or so each."

"We are just going to enjoy ourselves all we can, for you know," with a smile, "we've all worked pretty hard."

SETTLEMENT NEAR AT PORTSMOUTH

PRACTICALLY CERTAIN THAT THE STRIKERS' DEMANDS WILL BE GRANTED.

Alleged Briber Refuses to Produce Books Before Grand Jury—
Ohio News.

Portsmouth, O., March 7.—The outlook for a settlement of the street railway strike is very bright, according to W. E. Fitzgerald, member of the executive board of the American Association of Street Railway Employees. A conference between the company and employees has been arranged, and it is practically certain that every demand of the strikers will be granted, even to their being recognized as union men. The swearing in of business men as deputy sheriffs still continues.

Refused to Produce Books.
Columbus, O., March 7.—M. F. Bramley, president of the Cleveland Trinidad Paving company, who is charged with bribing city officials, refused to produce the company's books before the grand jury which is investigating the charges of bribery in connection with the East Broad street paving contract, and his refusal was sustained by Judge Evans. Bramley claimed his constitutional right of refusing to give any evidence that might tend to incriminate him.

Sauerkraut Trust?
Toledo, O., March 7.—About 20 of the foremost manufacturers of Sauerkraut of the United States met here and effected an organization for the promotion of the trade. Officers elected are: President, George Slessman, Clyde, O.; secretary and treasurer, W. W. Wilder, Clyde, O. Among other packers present was W. J. Weller of Cincinnati. Committees were appointed to draft a constitution and bylaws, which will be reported for acceptance at the next meeting.

Sewer Gas Explodes.
Cincinnati, O., March 7.—While gazing into a manhole watching employees of the Bell Telephone company working in a conduit, two boys were suddenly hurled 25 or 30 feet into the air, and three other lads were badly burned by an immense sheet of flame that burst from the manhole simultaneously with an explosion that could be heard 10 squares away. The explosion is said to have been due to the ignition of sewer gas.

Fire Ravages Coal Docks.
Bryan, O., March 7.—Lake Shore coal docks at Mina, four miles west of here, were totally destroyed by fire that originated in the engine room. About 500 tons of coal are burning. The local fire department is on the scene and have the fire under control.

Spitework Alleged.

Columbus, O., March 7.—After spending three days in the penitentiary for cutting with intent to wound.

DAVIS' TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

MAY BE CARRIED IMMEDIATELY TO THE ILLINOIS SUPREME COURT.

Defendant Will Attack Validity of the Chicago City Ordinance Said to be Violated.

Danville, Ill., March 7.—The trial of Will J. Davis, charged with manslaughter on account of the fire in the Ironworks theater at Chicago in 1903, may be carried to the supreme court before the trial itself can go on. The witnesses have been released and have returned to Chicago, subject to further notice. The prosecution had scarcely begun to question the first witness when the defense objected to the entire proceedings and moved to have the court direct the prosecution to introduce, first of all, the Chicago ordinance, the alleged violation of which resulted, as claimed, in the fire and in the indictment. Notice was served that the validity of the ordinance would be attacked. If the ordinance was invalid, then, as argued, there was no law to violate, and Davis is guilty of no crime.

Thought Shadow a Burglar.
Marion, March 7.—Mistaking her shadow for a burglar Miss Stella Diebolt was frightened nearly into hysterics at her home early yesterday morning. Returning from a party she stepped inside the door when she faced the supposed burglar. The girl gave a shriek and collapsed.

PROFESSOR STRICKEN BLIND.

Bucyrus, March 7.—Word has been received by relatives here that Professor J. C. Shedd, formerly of this county, was stricken blind while making a chemical experiment at Colorado Springs. Prof. Shedd was demonstrating the Vincent rays to his class when he was stricken.

ROBBERS DYNAMITE SAFE.

Nasonville, Iowa, March 7.—Robbers dynamited the safe of the Farmers' Savings bank and escaped with $7,000 after a running pistol fight in the streets. None was injured of the posse after the robbers.

Three women were seriously injured and three slightly hurt as the result of a collision at New Orleans between a fire patrol and a chemical engine.

Mrs. Fred Schwommer and William G. died of bullet wounds inflicted by the woman's husband, who returned unexpectedly to his home near Indianapolis, Ind., and found the two together.

FOLLOWED DAUGHTER TO SUICIDE'S GRAVE

Mrs. Alice Gunder, of Kirkersville, Mother of Minnie Gunder Who Committed Suicide December 21, Swallows Morphine

Mrs. Gunder Has Been Mentally Unbalanced Since Daughter's Tragic Death---Started to Cemetery
In Night Clothes to Mourn on Daughter's Grave.

(Special to the Advocate.)

Kirkersville, O., March 7.—Hearing groans in an adjoining room of his residence Wednesday afternoon, Dr. F. A. Rutledge entered the room and found Mrs. Alice Gunder, aged 73 years, prostrate on her bed in the agony of approaching death. Not until preparations were being made for the care of the body at midnight was it discovered that death was due to morphine, an empty bottle which had contained the drug being found in the bed occupied by the dead woman.

Minnie Gunder, aged about 22 years, daughter of the deceased, committed suicide on December 21, last, by swallowing a quantity of a deadly drug.

Since the tragic death of her daughter, Mrs. Gunder's mind has been much affected and frequently her many friends here have become alarmed at her condition but feared no such act as this until the horrible discovery of Wednesday night which completes one of the most dreadful double tragedies that has occurred in Licking county in many years.

Staid Away From Home

The aged woman has been in her former home here but twice since the death of her daughter and each time it has been in company with some members of the family of Dr. Rutledge at whose residence she has made her home ever since. The memory of the tragic death of her beautiful and accomplished daughter seemed to haunt her continually. When she was not talking to her friends about the loss, she was gazing into space, apparently overcome with grief and anguish. The family of Dr. Rutledge seemed unusually near to her because of the fact that when the physician first came to Kirkersville several years ago he boarded with the Gunder family.

Wandered in Night Clothes.

Wednesday morning was the first time that Mrs. Gunder's condition had been considered very serious. At about 3 o'clock Mrs. Rutledge awakened her husband saying that she heard Mrs. Gunder moving about. Both arose and found the woman going out the front door in her night clothing. She was wailing and calling the name of her daughter Minnie. When asked where she was going she said:

"I am going to the cemetery after Minnie. O, my girl, my girl!" Dr. Rutledge and his wife succeeded in persuading the aged woman to return to her room, where they watched her until morning.

Followed Meal With Poison.

Mrs. Gunder remained in bed and at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon Mrs. Rutledge took a meal to her room. She ate very little of this and was left alone. It was only a short time until her groans were heard in an adjoining room and it was learned that she had made a successful attempt to end her life.

Mrs. Gunder has resided in this place all her life and was a most highly respected woman. The influence which she exerted upon the community can only become known with her demise. The untimely death of her daughter, which was shrouded in mysterious circumstances, practically wrecked her life and mind, and coupled with her advanced age, tended to bring about a rapidly declining state of health which is believed to have been responsible, to a great extent, for her rash deed.

Mysterious Death of Daughter.

As will be remembered, the peculiar circumstances surrounding the death of the daughter, Minnie Gunder, created much talk in this place, the name of a prominent man here being coupled with that of the young woman as a probable cause for her suicide. The report of Coroner L. L. Marriotti gave the facts of the case but when presented to the grand jury at its following term, failed to warrant any action being taken in the matter. It will be remembered also that the drug which caused the death of the young woman was said to be oil of tansy and that it was purchased at a Newark pharmacy by the man referred to. When her condition was discovered the young woman refused to take an emetic and also refused to state the cause for the deed. She died within a few minutes.

Mrs. Gunder was the widow of the late Noah Gunder a prominent Kirkersville citizen. She leaves one son, Charles B. Baker of London Mills, Ill., a brother, W. B. Beach of South Bend, Ind., and a sister, Mrs. J. B. Buckland of Columbus.

The funeral arrangements will not be made until the arrival of the relatives who have been notified of the death.

LINGAFELTER PUT IN CELL DURING NIGHTS

AT ONCE ASSIGNED TO WORK IN CLERICAL CAPACITY AT THE PEN.

After Bertillon Measurements the ex-Banker Was Dressed in Prison Gray.

(Special to Advocate.)

Columbus, O., March 7.—After having his picture taken and the Bertillon measurements made, James F. Lingafelter, the ex-banker, dressed in the prison gray, was put to work as clerk in the office of H. B. Robbins, superintendent of construction at the penitentiary Wednesday evening. Mr. Lingafelter is an expert bookkeeper, and being too old to be of service in one of the factories he will be of most value in a clerical position. At night he is confined in cell No. 34, in cell block First D, which is one of the little old cells in the last hall.

NEWARK MOLDER BECAME INSANE ON BOARD TRAIN

Mr. Frank Schimpf, secretary of the Licking Aerie, F. O. E., received a telegram from Mr. H. J. Simmons of Alamogard, New Mexico, stating that James Jackman, a former well known Newark molder employed at the Wehrle works, while a passenger on a train en route from Newark, Cal., to his home in Vincennes, Ind., became violently insane while the train was running through New Mexico, and that he was being cared for in Alamogard. Mr. Schimpf immediately wired Mr. Simmons to care for the sick man until further orders.

It will be remembered that Mr. Jackman and three other Newark molders left for San Francisco, Cal., shortly after last Labor Day to work in a stove foundry at Newark, operated by Mr. Truesdale, formerly of this city. Two of the men, after remaining there for a short time, returned to Newark, leaving James Vatchett and James Jackman there. Mr. Jackman is a member of Minne-wa Tribe of Red Men No. 52, Licking Aerie of Eagles and Iron Molders' Union No. 152 of this city, and he will receive all possible attention and arrangements can be made to remove him to his home at Vincennes, Indiana.

PROBATE COURT CRIMINAL TERM

HARD FOUGHT CASE OF OHIO VS. O'DELL GARRISON IS DECIDED

Defendant Found Guilty of Appearing Intoxicated on Utica Streets. Other Court News.

The March term of the Probate criminal court closed Wednesday evening with the following business transacted:

In the case of the State of Ohio vs. O'Dell Garrison, charged with appearing on the streets of Utica in a state of intoxication, June 13, last, the jurors returned a verdict of guilty. The state was represented by J. R. Fitzgibbon and Carl Norpell, and the defense by Robbins Hunter, assisted by B. G. Smythe. The jury retired at 4 o'clock Wednesday evening and a little before 5 returned the verdict.

The defendant immediately gave notice of the filing of a motion for a new trial.

A motion for a new trial will be filed by the defendant today or tomorrow, which will be heard by the court on some day to be agreed upon shortly, when the court, should it overrule the motion, will pass sentence on the defendant. There are numerous law propositions raised in the case, by exceptions taken by the defendant during the trial, and should the motion be overruled the case will no doubt be taken to the Common Pleas court by the defendant on a bill of exceptions seeking a removal of the rulings of the Probate court, the verdict and judgment.

At the former term the same case was tried to a jury, the jury disagreeing.

The case of the State of Ohio vs. William S. McQuillan, an application for a peace warrant, was continued to the April term of the Probate court. The same disposition was made of the following cases:

Ohio vs. Thomas Woolees, assault and battery.

Ohio vs. Lemuel Bergin, assault and battery.

Ohio vs. William Bergin selling liquor on Sunday.

Ohio vs. Frank McBatton, petit larceny.

The case of the State of Ohio vs. Charles Schimpf, charged with selling liquor to minors, was set down to a special assignment to be tried to the court without a jury on March 29th.

Other Probate Court News.

The divorce case of Margaret J. Jamison vs. Frederick D. Jamison, was tried in the Probate court. F. A. Bolton appeared for the plaintiff and the defendant made no defense. The plaintiff charged the defendant with extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty, and the court granted the decree on these grounds and ordered that the plaintiff be restored to her maiden name of Margaret J. Hamilton.

Lillian Green, whose home is in Johnstown, this county, was granted a divorce from her husband, Homer Green, on the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. The defendant made no defense to the action.

An inquest of lunacy was held in the Probate court on Charles Harmon, an unmarried man of 32 years, Harmon is 32 years old and was temporarily insane from alcoholism. The court, on hearing the evidence adjudged the patient insane and ordered him taken to the State Hospital for treatment. He was taken over to Columbus Thursday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Hindel and turned over to the officials at the hospital.

The last will and testament of Elijah J. Shambaugh deceased, of Lima township, was admitted to probate on Thursday, and his widow, Emma B. Shambaugh, was appointed administratrix with the will annexed. Bond $2500.

GOWN OF LEAF-GREEN SILK CREPE.

Leaf-green crepe was used for the model of the gown pictured, the bodice and skirt being trimmed by insertions of silk lace dyed the same color. The bottom of the skirt was finished by two bands of tucks, the material being shirred from under each insertion of lace. The high girle and the folds outlining the deep-pointed yoke were of satin matching the material in shade. The yoke and undersleeves were of cream color chantilly, the cuffs of the sleeves being trimmed by folds of satin and small bows of the same.

NEWARK ARTIST.

Mr. Samuel Avery, son of Mr. Joe Avery, of 112 Wilson street, and who is attending an art school in Kalamazoo, Mich., has had accepted for the front page of the Union Sentinel of Grand Rapids a drawing for that paper.

The drawing is a caricature and treats of the difference in the attitude of an employer to a union man or a non-union man when either applies for work.

It is a high-grade production, and the artist evidently has a bright future before him, as work of this class is in demand.

THE HEART CAN'T STAND RHEUMATIC ACID POISONING

To Free and Correct the Blood a URIC-O Treatment is Advised.

There is great danger in those sharp, shooting pains throughout the body, especially about the region of the heart. It means that poisonous uric and rheumatic acids are there ready to grip tightly the muscles controlling this organ. Don't neglect these warnings, for they are the danger signals nature flashes to you for help. There is but one way to overcome this poisonous foe, and that is a thorough treatment with Smith's Specific Uric-O. If your system is filled with uric acid, and if your blood and kidneys are diseased with rheumatic poison, there is no surer way on earth to get relief than through the use of Uric-O. Uric-O is a harmless liquid internal remedy, taken in small doses three times a day, and does not contain a drop of alcohol, opium, or other dangerous poisons. Uric-O is simply a cure for Sciatic, Muscular, Inflammatory and Articular Rheumatism. They all yield readily to Uric-O treatment. Your druggist sells Uric-O at $1.00 per bottle. If he does not keep the remedy, you can obtain the same by addressing the makers of Uric-O, the SMITH DRUG COMPANY, SYRACUSE, N. Y. Uric-O is sold and recommended in Newark by Frank D. Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Restorative—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and enthusiastically recommend

Dr. Shoop's Restorative R. W. SMITH.

COMMISSIONERS OPEN BIDS.

Bids were opened Thursday by the county commissioners and State Highway Commissioner Sam Huston and Assistant D. W. Sites for macadamizing the highway at Summit Station under the State Aid law. The pike, which it is proposed to improve, extends from Summit Station south to Broadway and on Broadway to the Franklin county line, a distance of one mile and six-tenths of a mile, where it will connect with another pike. There was only one bid for the work, that of W. S. Pace, who bid $11,573.72, and he was awarded the contract.

and all mouths open to this best chew of all chews—for forty years the same highest quality—the same price—the same full-weight 16 oz. plugs—the same standard chew.

STAR

PLUG CHEWING TOBACCO

"Star" is easily the most economical chew because it lasts much longer—gives more good chewing to the plug, than any other chew made. "Star" is rich, waxy and sweet—and that's the kind you like. For forty years "Star" has been the standard chew—the highest quality—the most economical—the most satisfying.

AMUSEMENTS

The Americans presented a rousing comedy drama, "The Voice of Nature" at the Auditorium Wednesday night.

That the house was not half filled was not the fault of the company. Rarely is a repertoire company seen here whose members are so evenly balanced in serious work and at the same time take such good care of the roaring farce comedy introduced in Wednesday night's piece.

"Satan's Imp" a tale of romance among the moonshiners, will be offered tonight with a strong cast and ample scenic accompaniment.

A matinee will be given Friday and Saturday. On Friday night Mr. Alexander the leading man, will give his own interpretation of the great dual character of Dr. Jekyll and Mr.

TO FRISCO ON HORSEBACK.

Logansport (Ind.) Man Will Try to Do It in Ninety Days.

At the age when most men are content to sit in the easy chair and watch the youngsters James P. Foley, aged sixty-five, captain of the police force of Logansport, Ind., is preparing to ride horseback to San Francisco on a $500 wager that he can complete the trip in ninety days, says the Pittsburg Press. The start is to be made in the spring, although the doughty captain was ready for the get away within ten days after the wager was made had the man who covered his money insisted.

This will not be the first time that Captain Foley has ridden over the western country. He has fought Indians in the Black Hills and was in Utah during the exciting times when the Mormons sought to exclude the gentiles. He has ridden over the deserts of New Mexico and Arizona, climbed the Colorado mountain peaks and knows every mile of the great Panhandle range in western Texas.

On the way to Frisco, Captain Foley is counting on passing a spot a few miles east of Medicine Bow, Wyo., where for two days in the early seventies he, with two companions, was surrounded by a band of a dozen Indians. The three white men, taken by surprise, were forced to make a stand behind a pile of rocks. For two days they stood off the Indians, killing four of their number. On the third night they made a sortie, rode through the Indian band and escaped to Medicine Bow. As a memento of that midnight dash Captain Foley still carries a bullet in his shoulder.

The rugged life of his younger days has left the captain a strong constitution. He is straight as an arrow, agile as a panther, and there are few faster runners in Indiana. Prisoners who fall into his clutches and show fight invariably get the worst of it.

He keeps in training all the time. Each morning, winter or summer, no matter how severe the weather, he takes a gallop into the country astride his wiry Indian mustang. Captain Foley has figured that he will be able to make forty-five miles a day. Through the mountains he is only counting on averaging from ten to fifteen miles.

TWAIN'S WHITE DRESS SUIT.

Humorist's Evening Clothes Are Made of Snowy Broadcloth.

Mark Twain (Samuel L. Clemens) has had made for him a suit of evening clothes of white broadcloth as immaculate as newly fallen snow, says the New York Herald. The buttons are covered with the same material. When he arrays himself, he will undoubtedly wear with the suit white enameled leather shoes. The genial humorist has long been in rebellion against the somber claustrum effects borrowed from the court of France.

Mr. Clemens has decided that his new evening wear shall be supplemented by a long Spanish cloak which can be thrown over the shoulder. Such garments were worn by grandees and cavaliers.

This broadcloth is of a soft finish. The suit was cut in strict accordance with the prevailing mode. The coat is lined throughout with white silk, and the lapels are faced with the same material. The collar is of cloth, for it was thought that white velvet, which was permissible, would easily become soiled. The coat is adorned with three white buttons in front and two at the back. The waistcoat, which has three buttons, is of the same material as the coat. Its only ornamentation is a white zigzag embroidery around the edges. The trousers have a white silk braid down the outside seams.

Mr. Clemens is not fond of black silk hats, and with his new white suit he will probably wear a gray fedora. He has also a new light gray overcoat. Mr. Clemens announced a year ago that he would henceforth wear white because it corresponded to the original costume mentioned in "Adam's Diary." After publicly pleading guilty to a seventieth birthday not long ago he said he considered himself old enough now to wear about what he pleased.

Care of his all white wardrobe, which consists of fifteen suits, is no easy task for the humorist. He is obliged to send two of them to a cleaner every week.

Japanese Colony in Canada.

Apparently Canada has no fear of a Japanese invasion. A scheme is on foot for creating a Japanese agricultural colony in the heart of Alberta. Well to do Japanese farmers are to be taken out to turn their attention to the raising of wheat and the cultivation of sugar beets and anything else which will thrive in the climate. The negotiations are being carried out by B. R. Nagatany, who proposes, according to the China Telegraph, to buy 50,000 acres from the Canadian Pacific.

Our New Congressman.

It is gratifying to the friends of our new congressman, Mr. Ashbrook, that such favorable mention has been made of his entrance into the position, on the 4th inst. by the press of this district. There seems to be a general recognition of the fact that Mr. Ash-brook will be a representative of the people in every sense. The business of his constituents will be looked after by Mr. Ashbrook in a much more prompt and pains-taking manner than they have been for the past two years. There will be ample reason, in fact, for the people of the 17th district to favorably appreciate the change that has been made in its representative in Congress.

Smyser Condemned by a Republican Editor.

Mr. W. H. Stout, editor of the Uhrichville Chronicle, and postmaster of that city, has the following to say condemning the conduct of late Congressman Martin Luther Smyser in voting for the notorious ship subsidy steal during the last days of the late session:

When Congressman Smyser voted for the ship subsidy bill he misrepresented the wishes and the interests of the people of his district. The majority of his constituents do not favor the giving of government money to ship barons.

The Chronicle is a Republican newspaper, and gave strong support to Smyser at the last election. But the ship subsidy steal was too much for many honest Republicans of the country, it is well known, and Brother Stout takes occasion to record himself with the better element of his party in condemning the course of Smyser.

Mr. Fuller's Success for the Railway Brotherhoods.

The various railroad brotherhoods of the country are manifesting their approval and appreciation of the active and valuable services rendered in behalf of their interests by Mr. H.
R. Fuller, their representative at Washington. Mr. Fuller displayed great activity and vigilance during the late session of Congress in securing the passage of the bill limiting the hours of railway employees. He watched the measure's progress in committee and on the floor of both the House and Senate and was in the same room with President Roosevelt when the latter signed the bill after its passage at the closing hour of the session. The President, in recognition of Mr. Fuller's services in behalf of the measure, congratulated the railway employees' representative on his success and expressed his sincere conviction that the measure was "a step in the right direction."

It will not be forgotten that Mr.
Fuller's condemnation of the conduct of ex-Congressman Smyser was brought into the campaign in this ter, therefore, to be noted in this connection that last fall some of Newark's members of the railway brotherhood did not seem to show as much appreciation or their own faithful representative at Washington as the President of the United States has done.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herp-icide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herp-icide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herp-icide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists.

NEWARK NEEDS A HUMANITY SOCIETY.

Newark's need for supporting the local Humane Society seems more apparent every day, as cases of almost incredible inhuman treatment of dumb animals are reported to the Advocate and the officials of the society.
The latest deplorable case of this sort was discovered Thursday in the vicinity of Grant and DeCraw avenues, West Newark, where two horses, good looking animals, are starving to death. In fact, their condition is such that they cannot stand alone and are supported by heavy pieces of harness. The matter has been reported to the authorities and if the citizens will take the proper interest in those dumb brutes without power to help themselves, it seems that there will certainly be less of such unnatural actions.

EXHIBITION GAMES.

The Alberta club of the Eastern Canadian league has been booked for two exhibition games with Newark.
The team will make a circuit through
The team will make a circuit through Ohio and Indiana, playing exhibition games and Newark got two dates.
Springfield will play here April 22 and 23, and Wheeling has asked Newark for three days, 16, 17 and 18. In all probability these latter dates will be accepted.

The players report here April 10.
This gives nearly a week's practice before the first exhibition games. Inasmuch as there will be but few new men in the line-up the biggest trouble will be to get into condition.

A NEWARK CASE.

Many More Like It In Newark.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Newark. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you can not ask for better proof than such conclusive evidence.

C. L. Starr, harnessmaker, of 89 Hancock St., Newark, O., says: "My confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills as a kidney and backache remedy is unbounded. In recommending this preparation I speak from experience. For years I was a sufferer from kidney complaint and backache and could get no relief. I had a miserable aching pain in the loins and my back was lame and weak. It was just as bad night or day and when I attempted to stoop or pick up anything a pain would strike me in the back that almost made me fall. If I remained in one position for any length of time and then moved quickly the pain stabled me like the thrust of a knife. I suffered in this way for years, and all the remedies that I tried failed to help me. I was just as bad as ever when I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store, and you may believe that I was delighted when the first few doses brought me relief. In less than forty-eight hours the backache was gone and I continued the treatment until entirely free from my old trouble.
My wife used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did the same for her, and neither of us have had any return of kidney trouble since using them."

SETTLEMENT MADE AT A CONFERENCE

AND THE DIFFERENCES WERE ADJUSTED BETWEEN PENN-SYLVANIA COMPANY

And the Employees, Thus Preventing a Strike on That System—Railroad News.

Philadelphia, March 7.—The differences between the Pennsylvania railroad and its trainmen, which for a time threatened to precipitate a strike, were settled at a conference between General Manager Atterbury of the railroad and the trainmen's grievance committee. Concessions were made by both the railroad and the trainmen.
The trainmen demanded the Pittsburg rate of pay and conditions of working in all yards east of Pittsburg and Erie, and the railroad has now agreed to extend the Pittsburg rates to a district within a radius of 45 miles of that city.

The Van Dusen Funeral.

The remains of Frank Van Dusen, chief assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines and those of his wife, accompanied by the family and friends passed through Newark on Pan Handle No. 25 Thursday morning in two special cars. The double funeral was public, but the interment and incidental services on Thursday at Cincinnati were private.
Traveling Passenger Agent J. H.
Smith of this city was one of the pallbearers.

Columbus members of the Order of Railroad Conductors and Railway Trainmen are interested in the joint meeting that will be held in Buffalo, N. Y., March 23, to ratify the working agreement of the two orders that was partially accomplished at Indianapolis last Sunday.

Don't Haul Passengers.

San Toy, Perry county, a mining village of 1000, with a thickly settled surrounding territory, was a railroad doing a big business, but hauling neither the residents of the village nor their possessions. This is all done in wagons over the bottomless streaks of mud along the hillsides, which serve as roads.

The town is at the end of a branch line running from the B. & O. at Sayre, Perry county, and known as the Sunday Creek Valley railway.
When the line carries 30 or 40 cars of coal from San Toy it has done a day's work and stops.

On behalf of the entire community
Dr. A. E. Brosier has led a petition with the state railroad commission asking that the B. & O. which operates the branch, be compelled also to furnish passenger, freight and express service, which will be available for anybody with the necessary price.

Roberts Stopped Gambling.

Gamblers tried to work on the accommodation train last night from Sandusky to Newark, but were stopped by B. & O. Detective Roberts, who was watching for them to make the attempt.

B. & O. Train Auditors.

The train auditors that the B. &
O. company is now using, take a great deal of work off the conductors, and in view of the recent casualties all over the country on railroads, this departure will certainly conduce to greater safety to the traveling public.
The two cent fares keep the trains filled up and with the increased business, something had to be done to relieve the trainmen.

Secretary Hopkins Announces Exhibition Dates With Several Clubs.
Four Games Booked.

Secretary W. B. Hopkins of the Newark Baseball club received another signed contract Thursday morning from Manager Bob Berryhill. The player whose name appears on the contract is M. J. Smith of Pasadena, who is now a student in a dental college in Indianapolis. Smith played in the east last summer and Berryhill says he will make some one go some for the position at third base.

This gives four infielders who are to try out for positions against Wratten and Davis, both of whom have failed thus far to sign up for the season. Haval has signed, an one of the four may get his place if they make a showing which looks better than the last year's record of the Newark infield.

This gives the Newark club the signed contracts of thirteen men with four of last year's men still holding out. The contract of Outfielder Al Schweitzer is expected most any time, but it looks as though Wratten and Davis would both hold out for more money until the last dog is hung.

The directors are not the least inclined to grant their requests for more money. Davis especially will not get the raise. It is the opinion of the entire directorate that he put up his best game last season and his weak hitting will be the cause of his failure to land in case he does not come. None of the members of the board have any fault to find with his fielding. He is regarded as the fastest short fielder in the league, but the management is making every effort to strengthen the team in the batting department.

The following players are now under contract: Pitchers E. E. Ascher, Clinton Webb, L. W. Henderson and Joe Locke (conditional); Catchers Scott Winters and W. C. Pearce; Infielders Clifford Thomas, Jas. Pierce, Edward Haval, Charles E. Gape and M. J. Smith; Outfielders Wm. J. Snyder, Bluford Walls. This leaves Al Schweitzer, Dan Davis, Irve Wratten, and Joe Stoup still out or the fold.

Joe Lock, the veteran pitcher, is signed conditionally. He was suspended last year for insubordination. If Secretary Ferrell reinstates the man he will be at liberty to sign here. If not, he will have to go to the out-law league.

Infielder Gape lives at Canton, and is highly recommended by Scottie Winters, who says the man is a comer. He will get a trial. Berryhill, of course, is also among the men signed.

SNYDER SAYS WE WILL BE IN GAME

"Lefty" Snyder and Fred Linke strolled down High street yesterday and were willing to venture the opinion that Newark's club is going to cut a big figure this season in the Ohio-Penn league.

"When we got going right late last year we made the others move," said Snyder, "and the same bunch will be back to get an early start this trip. Newark will be a factor all right."

Snyder has signed his contract and is ready to report. Shortly before March 1 Linke signed a Columbus contract, but he expects to be back with Newark ere reporting time.

ZANESVILLE SCRIBE SAYS O-P CRISIS IS YET TO COME

Larry Merrick of the Zanesville Signal says the real crisis in the O. & P. league is yet to come. He does it out that the lukewarm action of Youngstown in coming to the support of the team indicates that there is still danger of disruption.

The Zanesville man's logic is not without good foundation. It is a fact that Youngstown is not taking the interest in the welfare of the ball club they should take. The papers there try to put a roseate aspect on the situation but its one continuous, pathetic appeal for more money. Tuesday's Youngstown Telegram says:

"If Youngstown is to have a baseball team in the O. & P. league, several thousand dollars must yet be subscribed before the amount necessary to purchase land for and equip a ball park, will be available.

"Now that public spirited citizens have taken the matter up, and the Street Railway company has promised a contribution which is conceded to be liberal it is up to the citizens to say whether Youngstown is to have a ball team or take its place in the "has been" class with Niles and Warren."

Merrick further says New Castle is lamentably weak financially. Sharon starts with a $2,100 debt left over from last year, and Mansfield is weak from a financial standpoint, while Lancaster is scratching for subscribers for $5,000 worth of stock. He admits Newark looks good from a money standpoint.

MONEY IS SLOW COMING IN AT YOUNGSTOWN

Youngstown, March 7.—Stock subscriptions for the new baseball company are being received slowly. A large amount of money has been secured, but much more is needed. The street railroad company is turning over to the company the grounds outright. It is valued at $6,000. This will be one of the valuable assets of the company, as it will be owned clear by the company. Of the $15,000 to be raised for the company $7,000 will be invested in a grand stand.

The stand will be identical with that at Akron. It will have a seating capacity of about 2,000. The plans for the ground have been so made that there will be no sun field. On Thursday W. H. Park, the chief promoter of the company, will return to the city from Canada. When he arrives home President Charles Morton will be called here from Akron, and a final effort will be made to obtain the money which is necessary to organize the company.

O. & P. SCHEDULE COMMITTEE TO MEET

Akron, March 7.—President Morton issued a call to the O. & P. league schedule committee to meet here some day next week. The members of the committee are: W. E. Palmer, Akron; T. V. Rutledge, Newark; A. C. Hyde, New Castle, and W. E. Gray, Lancaster. Al Cook, who was elected to the committee at the annual meeting of the league, is no longer a member on account of the Youngstown club changing owners. The new Youngstown club may appoint a member to take Cook's place.

BOWLING

The Strollers won three straight games from the Echo club on forfeit on the Music Hall alleys last night. It was merely a practice game as they go to Zanesville tonight to play professionals.

Tonight the Mounters will play the Riveters on Music Hall alleys. Both teams are Wehrle employees.

The Strollers made 327, 732, 774 in the three games or a total of 2333 pins.

On the Hayes alleys last night the Calumet, leaders of the City Quintet league, took three straight games from a picked team, substituted for the Outlaws, who failed to appear for the contest. By taking these three games the Calumets again lead the league, and force the Century No. 1 team into second place. Hayes carried off high score and high average.

Unsatisfactory Bout.
Philadelphia, March 7.—Joe Thomas of California had a slight advantage over William Melody of Charlestown, Mass. In their six-round bout before the National Athletic club, Thomas dropped Melody in the opening round with a left to the chin, but the latter was quickly on his feet and rushed to a clinch. The fight was unsatisfactory because of the almost continuous clinching of both fighters.

DENISON TEAM LOST TH NEWARK

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL BASKET-BALL TEAM WON DECISIVE VICTORY.

Baptist Freshmen Showed Lack of Team Spirit in Last Game Scheduled.

For the second time this season, Newark High defeated the Denison Freshmen basketball team in a fast game, this time on the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium floor. The score of Wednesday's night's game was 51 to 21 in Newark's favor, though the score does not show that the teams fought hard for their points. It looks from the score as though the Granville five was outclassed, but not so. They played well and did not stop when defeated but kept right at the Newark lads until the finish.

The game seemed rough though there were not many fouls called. Guard McFarland and Center Orr of Denison played the best, each starting in their particular department. For Newark, Black was brilliant, while Bell showed up well for Newark. Denison was heavy but poor team work was responsible for their defeat and they showed the lack of practice.

SPORT GOSSIP.

Jack Hardy, last year with Sharon of the O-P, after the Interstate league went to the wall, has gone to Nashville to report.

Bob Spade, who closed the season with Akron, has gone to Atlanta, Ga., to play this season.

Roy Castleton, the Youngstown pitcher, drafted by the New York Americans, will not be taken south with the team, and it is probable that he will be farmed to the Montreal club.

Manager Kling of the Sharon baseball team, has signed George Bowerman, outfielder last season with the Salt Lake City club, and First Baseman Donaldson of the Vermillion, O., team. This makes seven outfielders and three first basemen on the Sharon list.

It looks now as though four O-P cities would have Sunday baseball this year. Akron, Youngstown, New Castle and Sharon can't play on Sundays.

Pitcher Rube Bowers, a New Castle star, has signed. Rube furnished as much amusement to Newark fans as a cage of monkeys and all are glad to see him back.

Youngstown fans won't subscribe for stock in the new baseball company because Marty Hogan is not manager. Perhaps Youngstown people will yet come to realize that Hogan was a valuable asset.

Charles Mischler, chief promoter of baseball in Sandusky, and the man who led the agitation to get into the O. & P. league, has taken to himself a wife, Mrs. Lena Nielsen, a widow of some money.

Jim Delehanty will play with St. Louis Americans and Joe will be with Williamsport in the Tri-State. Frank will retire from baseball to study medicine, while Willie announces he never, never will go back to Mansfield.

High living has practically killed Charles Kittinger of Akron, a former star pitcher. He has gone to Arizona in search of health. He was a prime favorite in Akron three years ago.

Teddy Strood, a man who has been erroneously put up as being a better third sacker than Irve Wratten, has returned his contract to Manager Walter East of Akron, unsigned. He wants more money.

It is rumored among the Pennsylvania clubs in the O. & P. league that Dick Nallin, center fielder for Akron last year, may not be a member of East's aggregation this season. According to the story he is contemplating signing with one of the teams in the new outlaw league. Local officials, however, think that he will be seen in an Akron uniform again this year.

Merlin Nye, a promising infielder from Springfield has gone to Montgomery to play for the season. John Melarkey, Montgomery's manager, bails from Springfield, which accounts for Nye's job there.

Boggs Myers, manager of the Canton Central League team, will boss the job from the bench. He has gone to Canton from Bellefontaine, his home, and the players will report April 1. The Central league season opens April 25.

CHICAGO'S BEAUTY SQUAD.

Policeman of Windy City Preparing For New Detail.

The announcement that Chief Collins of Chicago will in the near future appoint by special warrant a "beauty squad" of a hundred policemen to patrol the downtown district during the daylight hours has caused a flutter of excitement to run through the force, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. Every roll call is a dress parade nowadays, and the excitement will not die down until the selections finally are made.

Good looks will be the sole qualification, the term applying also to the apparel of those men taken under advisement by the chief. Here are some of the details insisted upon by the front office:

Must be tall, the nearer six feet the better.

Ought to have a mustache, but no whiskers.

Should not weigh more than 220 nor less than 145.

Must brush clothing carefully before coming on duty. (Officers may leave busy crossings at intervals to clean up in nearby alleys.)

Celluloid collars must be washed at least twice a week and daily where circumstances permit.

Gloves shall be worn in order that policemen may take the hands of women while assisting them without violating laws of propriety.

Must learn to pose in easy, graceful attitudes in order that visitors to the city may return to their homes praising the Chicago "cops."

Must refrain from interfering with truant teamsters as a personal combat might disarrange the clothing of the officer.

At night and on rainy days it is said that the "beauties" will be relieved of duty and the ordinary run of rough and ready coppers placed on the street.

Wardrobe Bookkeeping the Latest.

A book in which to keep a description of one's clothes is the latest thing in the fashionable world. The pace of society devotees is becoming so very strenuous with such a multiplicity of functions that a very extensive wardrobe is required—so extensive, in fact, that the fashionable woman cannot keep track of it without the aid of some record; hence a book in which to catalogue a season's wardrobe is the latest adjunct to the necessities of midlife. It remained for Mrs. Shonts to impress Washington society by such a prodigality of clothes that she has to have a description of them kept in a book, says a Washington dispatch to the Chicago Record-Herald. To be sure, the book is not ponderous. It is a neat little notebook in which is kept a record of the gowns this fortunate woman possesses. A color and a description of the trimmings is put down, thus cataloguing the whole wardrobe. This businesslike method of selecting attire saves much worry.

Poppcorn In Sailing Fleet.

Captains of the yachts of the Inlet pleasure fleet, Atlantic City, endeavoring to keep step with improvements in other resort attractions, have prepared to eliminate sea sickness from the realm of possibility for their passengers. Fresh popcorn is the infallible cure for the woes of mal de mer that the skippers will introduce when the pleasure sailing season opens in a month, says the Chicago Tribune. Harry F. Winters of Camden suggested the wholesome popcorn crusade against the dread of yachting parties. In extended travels he says he has seen popcorn cure hundreds of sufferers. Experiments have proved satisfactory, the captains declare, and the Yachtmen's association, enthused by the scheme, probably will erect a big popper for general use at the end of their pier.

Steamship a Noah's Ark.

The big steamship Minneapolis, which sailed from London recently, was more like a twentieth century Noah's ark than a transatlantic liner, says a London cable to the New York Herald. She carried 12 elephants, 2 babies of the same genus, 8 tigers, 14 lions, 10 bears, 9 hyenas, 7 wolves, 14 leopards, 6 dromedaries, 14 dogs, 9 monkeys, 12 camels and 26 pythons. These are the property of the "animal king," Mr. Bostock, who is taking them over to America for the Jamestown exposition. The baby elephants are traveling quite in state and are to be most carefully looked after. They are to have the whole of 600 gallons of milk and nearly all of twenty-five gallons of cod liver oil which was taken on board.

Married Men Bravest.

If, as the bishop of London recently said, married men are more immoral than bachelors, they may now veil their blushes with the testimony given in the house of commons recently to their superior courage, says a London cable to the New York Sun. In the course of the debate on the war secretary's army scheme Major Seely, who commanded a company of Imperial Yeomanry in the South African war, said it was the general experience there that married soldiers were more courageous than the unmarried ones. The same characteristic, he said, was admittedly developed in the Russo-Japanese war.

The Only Hand Shaker Left.

With four members of the Missouri legislature stricken with smallpox and all the other men in Jefferson City terror stricken because of the epidemic, Governor Folk is the only hand shaker left in the town, says a dispatch to the New York World. None of the others will "touch flesh," but Governor Folk gives a hearty clasp whenever opportunity offers. Unfortunately this display of confidence is seldom witnessed because citizens refuse to shake, and strangers are all that are left to the intrepid executive.

AIN'T YOU?

Ain't you longin' with a longin' none o' winter's joys max quier
For the harum scarum summer, for the pleasure time o' year,
For the wide stretch of vacation, when the nights are sweet an' mild,
An' the days are long an' sunny, an' the boys are runnin' wild,
An' the goggle eyes are blin', an' birds
singin' all the time,
With magnolias full o' blossoms for the
boys that dare to climb,
An' for romps across the country, where the dark cloud shadows fly,
When a fellow gets so hungry bread
tastes good as punkin pie?

Ain't you longin' for the summer, when the children quit their shoes An' their fathers mop their foreheads an'
their mas wear peekaboos,
When the bees are workin' overtime they've got so much to do,
'Cause the world's so full o' honey that they never can get through,
An' the days are full o' gladness an' the
boys that dare to climb,
For each father an' each mother an' each little girl an' boy,
With the windows all wide open to the breezes from the south,
An' the good night kisses linger sweet as honey on the mouth?

'F I could have my way about it, I would have for summer time
A big park out by the bayou full o'
dandy trees to climb,
An' with lots for kids to row in, an' a place for kids to swim,
An' old fashioned rope swings hangin'
down from every juttin' limb,
An' somehwars along the bayou I'd comprise some fishin' holes,
An' I'd have a clump of willows that the kids could cut for poles,
An' a place they could dig bait in, an' a place where they could wade,
An' where little girls could wade in an'
no call to be afraid.

After that all through each summer we would meet there once a week,
An' we'd set them rope swings goin' 'till
we made the branches creak,
An' we'd laugh 'till all the heavens seemed to fill an' overflow,
With the music of our laughin' an' our singin' loud an' low,
An' the boys could tear their jumpers,
an' the girls could tear their skirts,
An' could hurt themselves a little so that I could kiss their huris
An' could heal 'em—I've a notion ever' little bit o' child
Ought each year to have a playtime
when it could go runnin' wild.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

Spring is almost here. Have you planned your garden and ordered shrubs and trees for your yard? (Good Friday, the traditional time to plant sweet peas is late this year. Plant on St. Patrick's day, March 17, if the ground can be worked. Sow grass seed now and put a dressing of manure mixed with straw over it. Did you plant bulbs in your yard last year? They will be showing their green tops now, or very soon. Snow drops are already blooming. They will bloom under the snow.

There will be no general solicitation of Civic Improvement prizes this year, but the society will be glad to have cash prize offered voluntarily.
They will ask societies, secret organizations and women's club to offer prizes and so help in the beautifying of the city. This society does not expect to do the work of the city officials or the individual lot owner?, in having sidewalks repaired or dead trees removed, or rubbish hauled away, but it does hope that by its influence civic pride may be aroused so that these things will be done, and that in time there may be great improvements made in this city.

We cannot lay out parks or build a library or improve the various vacant lots in the city and the waste land around it, but this can be done in time, if all the citizens will help, and work for it and give money to have it done. It is to your interest to have your town improved, to make it the best possible town to live in, with the best possible advantages. If you want your property to increase in value why don't you do something to bring it about?

A BUSINESS MATTER

Veteran City Official Writes About Public Utilities.

In His Opinion Private Corporations Can Conduct Most of Them Better Than the Cities Can—Facts and Arguments to Support His Views by John W. Hill, Chief Engineer of the Cincinnati Waterworks.

In venturing to speak on the subject of municipal ownership of public utilities my opinion is based upon long association with works of public water supply, with which I have been connected as designer, builder and operator during nearly my whole professional career. Recognizing the analogy in many respects of waterworks, gas works, electric light works, street railways and other public utilities, such opinion as may be expressed upon municipal ownership of works of public water supply will have an application to other public utilities.

My experience teaches me that private corporations engaged in building and operating waterworks systems almost invariably secure better results in construction and operation than are obtained by municipal corporations subject to rapidly changing political influences and whose public utilities are used, as they are bound to be used, as nesting places for active politicians whose chief claim for favor rests upon political services rather than upon merit and experience in the conduct of any branch of public water supply.

That there are exceptions to this rule is not surprising. There is one city in the United States which enjoys a metropolitan water supply under the control of the state. The governor appoints the commissioners, and the commissioners and all their employees can expect to hold office for life or during good behavior. In this instance political influence is removed from the design, construction and operation of the works of public water supply. The commissioners and all their employees deal with the waterworks as a matter of business, and I am informed that no political test is ever applied to any man appointed to a position under this board. This is the only city in this country which I now recall where such a condition exists.

The relations between the officers and capitalists of a private water company are precisely the same as those between any set of responsible men in a commercial or manufacturing business. Plans are mutually studied to secure the best results at least cost. In securing bids for work the lowest prices are usually obtained by private parties, because none of the usual legal restrictions and red tape which pervade all transactions in municipal governments is permitted to enter into the operation of a private company, and better prices and better terms can be made in behalf of a responsible private corporation than in behalf of a municipal corporation. I speak of this matter from actual experience and have had occasion to state to the officers of municipal corporations that money and time could be saved the taxpayers or water takers if the particular works under consideration could be constructed as a private enterprise.

In the operation of a municipal waterworks there can be no doubt that a company can secure better results than a municipal corporation if I except the single city in this country referred to above. A private corporation is bound to supply water in quantity and quality up to the terms of its contract and to the satisfaction of its patrons. In a measure it is required to do business with the citizens very much as any local manufacturing or commercial company would be required to conduct its business if it depended entirely upon local patronage. It must satisfy its customers. How few of the larger cities of the country satisfy the requirements of the water consumers!

A private water company is constantly seeking business. It is bound to conduct its service and adjust its water rates to secure this, and while the matter of profit is necessarily always in view and properly kept in view by the private water company, nevertheless no company can be so indifferent to its own interests as to refuse to listen to the just demands of the community which it is serving.

I believe the trend of sentiment today is distinctly against municipal ownership of works of public water supply and of some other public utilities and more emphatically against the operation of such works by municipal corporations. In fact, I believe that the less a municipal corporation dabbles in lines of business which experience has demonstrated private parties are able to conduct successfully the greater will be the advantage to the people.

While I believe that the ownership, construction and operation of works of public water supply and other public utilities should be in the hands of private corporations, I do not mean by this that they should not be subject to proper municipal control. Every water company should be required to supply water in quantity and quality to meet the most exacting requirements of its patrons; it should be required to maintain its physical works in good condition; it should be required to develop its resources contemporaneous with or in advance of the requirements of the community; it should be required to sell its product at a rate which, after paying the operating and maintenance charges and fixed charges on the investment for the work, will yield a reasonable profit to the holders of its stock, and it should be always willing to meet and remove any reasonable objections which may be raised to the service rendered in a spirit of fairness and justice to the community upon the necessities and favor of which it depends for its revenues.

There are certain lines of public work which probably cannot very well be turned over to private corporations—the construction and maintenance of streets and highways, of bridges and viaducts and the construction and maintenance of sewers and drainage—because these things would be very difficult of management by a private company by reason of certain questions which are bound to arise from time to time with reference to each—for example, property assessment for benefits, adjustments or damages and other questions of a legal nature which could not very well be assigned to private parties for disposition.

No such questions, however, can be raised with reference to works of public water supply, gas works, electric light works, street railways, works for the collection and disposal of garbage and perhaps some other enterprises where the duties and obligations of the private company can clearly be defined by contract.

There are probably few men who would not prefer to serve a private corporation at a lower salary or wage by reason of the advantages previously mentioned. It would be almost an unheard of proposition to assume that any company would choose its engineer, its superintendent or manager by reason of his political affiliations or for any other reason than his peculiar fitness for the work to which he is to be assigned.

Can it be doubted that much of the trouble, bickering and delay which have already been experienced in conducting the work of digging the Panama canal can be ascribed to anything else than the fact that the work is being conducted by the federal government? Or can it be doubted that if this enterprise were turned over to a company of experienced business men it would be built better and more quickly and economically than by the employees of the United States government?

MERELY HELPS POLITICIANS.

Easton Councilman Says That's What Municipal Ownership Does.

A statement was recently printed in the newspapers that Councilman Nevins of Easton, Pa., had said that "the operation of municipal plants amounts merely to the creation of a number of places to be filled by local politicians." Mr. Nevins, being asked if he was correctly quoted, sends the following reply:

"Dear Sir—In reply to your letter of recent date I would say that the item is correctly quoted. After nearly ten years' service as a councilman, elected against my own wishes, I am opposed to municipal ownership of anything so long as municipalities are ruled and controlled by politicians, and I know of no place where such is not the case. The employees of municipal plants (there are exceptions, of course) have no interest whatever in the plant, either as to its improvement or keeping it up to the required standard, much less as to its economy, so long as the taxpayer will pay. His principal aim is to serve his 'boss,' keep his place and draw his pay. I think the business of a city should be conducted the same as that of an individual. If, for example, light can be bought from a commercial company cheaper than it can be made, and it certainly can be (as the city is not in the commercial business), then it should be purchased from the lowest responsible bidder, and the executive force of the city should see to it that contracts are fully carried out. Yours very truly, D. W. NEVIN."

SOUTH MARION'S TROUBLE.

Unusual Situation in an Indiana City Over Light Assessments.

South Marion taxpayers say they will not pay any light assessment, and the city is confronted with an unusual situation. The cost of operating the plant is heavy, and the money now secured for the purpose is barely enough to pay the expenses. A number of South Marion business men say it is useless for the council even to assess them for lights next year, as they do not propose to pay and cannot be made to do so as long as the service is not satisfactory.

Even in other parts of the city where the lights are supposed to burn all night property owners have declared that they would under no condition pay their assessment, and the indications are that the city will have a hard time to collect it.

Attorneys have been consulted with the view of taking legal action to test the question, and the city may become engaged in a long drawn out controversy if the light assessment is added to the tax duplicates.—Marion (Ind.) Daily Leader.

This Famous Institution Insolvent.

Mr. T. Gibson Bowles, an ex-member of parliament, in a published letter on the subject of the postoffice deposits declares that the postoffice savings bank is insolvent. The government some years ago ceased the annual publication of the balance sheet, Mr. Bowles asserts, for the purpose of not disclosing the deficiency.—United States Consular Reports.

How Miss Weary Rid Herself of a Mr. Boreley.

"Oh, Mr. Boreley," said Miss Weary when the clock in the drawing room pointed to 9. "I wonder if I could get you to do me a great favor?"

"I am yours to command, Miss Weary," replied Boreley gallantly.

"You are very good, I'm sure. The favor is that you would post a letter for me as you go home."

"I will do so with the greatest pleasure," said he as he settled himself comfortably back in his chair.

"I would not trouble you with it," she went on, "but it is rather important that it should be started toward its destination tonight, as I am extremely anxious for it to reach my friend without loss of time."

"You may depend upon me, Miss Weary. I always remember letters which are given me to post. I never was known to carry one about in an inside pocket for two or three weeks, as is the manner of my sex."

"I was sure I could trust you, Mr. Boreley, and you will pardon me for saying again that it is important that the letter leave here tonight." As she spoke she went to a little writing table at the end of the room and returned with the letter. "Here it is, Mr. Boreley," she said. "The last collection at the box on the next corner is made at 9.20 precisely."

Mr. Boreley looked at his watch.

"Why," he said, "I have barely time to get there before the pillar box is cleared. Good night, Miss Weary."

"You are so good, Mr. Boreley. Good night. Be assured that I appreciate your kindness. You will call again soon, I hope."

As Miss Weary went upstairs she said to herself:

Sweet Innocence.

This is the first year "out" of a certain pretty little Baltimore girl, but she is promising. Not long ago at a dance a young man who had for some time been an ardent but bashful admirer succeeded in getting his nerve up to the point of asking her to sit out a dance with him in a little nook beneath the stairs well screened by a bank of palms.

"I—I don't know whether I should do that," she said, twisting her fan in her hands and looking up at him from beneath long lashes, "but—yes, I will."

"Why—er—you don't think it would be improper?" he said, blushing.

"N-no," she hesitated, "but the last time I sat there with a young man—he kissed me."

JUDGE HOKE'S COURT

There Are Occasions When His Honor Isn't All the Show.

HOW HE RECEIVED A SETBACK

Tells of a Certain Case Which Was Reversed on Him by the Higher Court. Had to Crawlfish Against His Wishes, but Gets Revenge.

[Copyright, 1934, by P. C. Eastmont.]

"In opening this yere court this mornin'," began Judge Hoke after the dogs and Chinamen had been thrown out, "let us ask ourself the question, 'Who and what is Jim Hoke?' Any of you can answer."

"Jim is jestic of the peace in and for the county of Red Rock, which particularly includes the enterprising town of Sandy Bend and its four poker parlors.

"Jim is the sole owner of the Red Dog saloon, where play is high and the drinks are on the square.

"As a jestic of the peace Jim Hoke deals out jestic and lets the law go hang.

"As the owner of the Red Dog and boss of the political machine he is looked up to as a devil of a feller.

"As a jestic he is supposed to be surrounded with reverence and awe. It is esteemed a compliment when he nods to any of the boys from the bench.

"As a usual thing he goes around puffed up and swelled out and looks upon himself as the biggest thing on two legs in America.

"There are occasions, however, when he is brought up with a sudden jerk and made to realize that he isn't all the show, and I'm saying that them occasions don't happen jest in time to prevent him from busting with conceit.

Had to Eat Dirt.

"Yes, my friends, you could all answer as above, and you'd be purty nigh the bullseye. One of them occasions is yere this mornin'. I've got to eat dirt. I've got to crawlfish. I've got to come off the perch. It will be at a loss of dignity, but don't let any critter in this town presume upon that. I'm one of them sort that can lose a whole cart load of dignity and then have two shots left for the kyote who grins at the back of my neck.

"All of you remember the case of Jim White versus Ching Ling, the Chinese washee. Jim was known to us as Ferocious Jim. The way he chanked his teeth and frothed at the mouth when any one opposed him was something awful to see. In a way he run this town. In a way he got all his drinks for nothing. In a way, if he said this earthly globe was flat, nobody else dared to say it was round.

"The undersigned isn't going to admit that he also stood in fear of Ferocious Jim, but he will go as far as to say that when Jim entered the Red Dog saloon with a whoop on his lips and blood in his eye there was lustling to set out his favorite beverage. Yes, the undersigned admits that much, and he feels a quiver of indignation in his soul as he does so.

Jim Not as Wicked as He Looked.

"None of us can say that Jim ever boasted of having killed twenty-seven men and held up half a dozen towns. We took him for the baddest kind of a bad man simply from the way he chanked his teeth and blew the froth from his lips. We had an instinctive feeling that if he ever turned loose he would reduce the population of Sandy Bend by at least a hundred, and we took care not to rile him.

"Feller critters, what happened six weeks ago? 'Twas a calm and peaceful day when he went up to Ching Ling's washee house to leave a shirt to be washed. Holy terrors wear shirts the same as humble men. I have seen the shirt he took under his arm and carried up the hill. Most of you saw it in this courtroom. It was marked 'Exhibit A—P. D. Q.' I hain't saying how many holes could be counted in that shirt. I hain't saying how many patches had been put over other holes. I hain't saying how it was shrunk up and squeegawed and kinked. It is sufficient for this yere court to observe that of all the shirts he ever beheld in this glorious commonwealth of Wyoming, ether on a man's back or off, that particular garment will ever repose in his memory as taking the cake.

"When Ferocious Jim entered the washee house he slammed the shirt down on the counter with some observation befitting the occasion. The sound of that shirt striking the table was like the sound of a lump of putty dropped from a third story window to the stone sidewalk.

How the Trouble Started.

"What wantee? asks the heathen in that molasses way of his.

"Washee!" yells Jim.

"No clean washee."

"Washee, and washee like blazes, or you won't live five minutes!"

"Feller critters, you know Ching Ling. You know his humility. You know that his ways are ways of peace. On one occasion, when this yere court damned his eyes for washing most of the tail off a shirt, he fell on his knees and shed tears.

"When threatened by Ferocious Jim he picked up the bundle and tossed it out of the window. It was hard to credit this, but several good men and true went up there and found the shirt in a snow bank.

"Then Jim whooped.

"He jumped up and down and cracked his heels together.

"His eyes glared like those of a tiger wounded unto death.

"He chanked his teeth and foamed at the mouth and screamed out.

"It was an awful sight to witness, but Ching Ling stood there on the burning deck and never gave the fact away that he held four aces. It was only when Ferocious Jim started to pull his guns that the heathen moved, and then he moved like a cyclone fifteen minutes late in keeping an appointment with J. P. Morgan. He took Jim's guns away. He emptied out the cartridges. He tossed guns and fodder out of the window after the shirt. He didn't get the red eye, and he didn't froth and whoop. He just turned Jim around and gave him the boot, and then this enterprising town of Sandy Bend was treated to a spectacle that our grandchildren will blush over. That spectacle dropped the price of real estate 50 per cent in five minutes, and such was the general emotion that the Red Dog saloon had to tap a fresh barrel of whiskey and dilute it with a little more than the usual quantity of water.

"What did we, the populace and the patriots and the mainstay of the town, behold? We saw and rubbed our eyes and saw again. We asked each other if we were dreaming. We asked ourselves if we had passed in our chips and were looking at moving pictures in that other land. If we was to live a thousand years we could never forget it. It was the spectacle of Ferocious Jim flying for his life and the Chingy-man at his heels. Think of it! Dwell on it! Keep the vision before your eyes! Ferocious Jim fleeing before Ching Ling and his hair standing up in affright!

Sunthin' Else Had to Follow.

"If it had been only that we might have recovered in time and corner lots regained their usual price, but sunthin' else was to follow. When Jim has out-run the heathen he comes to me and demands justice. He wants a warrant for assault and battery. Think of it! A white man, and a holy terror at that, wanting a warrant for assault and battery again a heathen weighing a hundred pounds! I talked. I argued. I appealed. It was no good. I had to issue the warrant and bring the Chingy-man into court, but when the facts in the case came out what did this court do? He discharged the prisoner with words of praise, and after making a speech to Ferocious Jim the miserable kyote was sentenced to state prison for five years.

"It wasn't law, but this court was looking more at the square deal. The higher court has reversed on me, and I have got to crawlfish. I do crawlfish. Jim sits over there looking as mean as he knows how, and I have got to set him at liberty. I do so. He can go. This yere court as a court has nuthin' further to do with him. Constable, throw open that door. Now, feller critters, step out and form a double line, and if any one of you misses giving Jim a kick to help him on his way out of town it will be in vain for you to drop in to the Red Dog in future and take a drink and ask me to chalk it down."

And Handed Out a Great Line of Talk to the Capital City Police.

Robert Donahue, a 15 year old amateur globe trotter of this city, "handed an interesting line of talk" to the Columbus police Wednesday when he was released from the police station after spending the night there, and was turned over to the Franklin county infirmary officials, who agreed to send him home to Newark.

Robert, who has a fondness for running away from home, "dug out" about a week ago and after an absence of several days, bobbed up serenely in the Capital City. There the police got him and while deciding what to do with him the officers were entertained by the lad's picturesque description of a trip to South Dakota. The boy is said to have taken the trip on less than 10 cents and a box of graham wafers. Robert's brother, who has been serving time at the Lancaster reformatory, was due to return home Thursday and he remarked to the Columbus officers that there would certainly be one family reunion when they both got home. So the infirmary officials got him the necessary means of transportation to his home here.

Stanley Donahue, an express driver residing on Sixteenth street, in West Newark, is the father of the two lads.

Up to a late hour Thursday the one brother, coming from Lancaster, had not reported but it is believed that he will arrive in the evening.

A Mark of Respect.

Junior Partner (referring to recent death of head of firm)—I think that is extremely thoughtful of you, Fletcher, to hang up that piece of crape.

Chief Clerk—That isn't crape, sir. It's the office towel.—Tatler.

Agreed.

"Of course I know," said the young lover, "that I am totally unworthy of you!"

"Ah," she answered, "how happy we should be if you and papa agreed on all points as you do on this one!"—Cleveland Leader.

Examples.

"Do you think that the law very often imprisons innocent men?"

"Yes. Look at the people who have to serve as jurors in capital cases."—Washington Star.

Have One Doctor

No sense in running from one doctor to another. Select the best one, then stand by him. Do not delay, but consult him in time when you are sick. Ask his opinion of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and colds. Then use it or not, just as he says.

SIMPLE CURE FOR ECZEMA

If you are one of those unfortunate who have doctored for a long time or have suffered in silence with any of those dreadful forms of skin disease, ask yourself why you have not tried that refreshing, soothing external liquid, D. D. D. Prescription.

Don't dose the stomach—cure the skin through the skin.

After washing with D. D. D. soap apply a few drops of D. D. D. prescription and there is INSTANT relief!

No more dosing the stomach with useless drugs. No more smearing of greasy ointments on yourself to vex your temper and stain your clothes. A simple wash, and your agonies and sufferings disappear and with it soon the humiliation of showing a distressed face.

Thousands who have been cured have written their gratitude to D. D. D. Prescription and you can see their letters at our drug store. We vouch for the remedy and we back the words of the manufacturer.

FRANK D. HALL, Druggist, Newark, Ohio.

but the D. D. D. company, manufacturers of the remedy, have made a special offer to send a large sample bottle practically free to any person who has never used this remedy. None but those who have not yet tried D. D. D. should write for the sample, enclosing only 10 cents (silver or stamps) which does not even pay for the cost of postage and packing on the large sample. You can get a large regular size bottle from the druggist named above or send 10 cents for a sample direct to the D. D. D. Company, Suite A, 112 to 120 Michigan street, Chicago.

DICK PLEADED HARD BUT MAYOR GAVE STIFF FINE

Dick Athey and David Matheoney were locked up Wednesday night for being drunk. Both were fined $5 and costs in police court Thursday morning. Athey was not quite sober when arraigned and made a passionate plea for clemency. Athey said he wanted another chance as he had resolved to take care of his mother so she would not have to work.

With tears in his voice, Athey concluded his eloquent plea with the words, "Won't you give me one more chance, mayor, for the sake of my pore ole mother?" The mayor was visibly affected by the touching appeal, but could see nothing but five and costs and a stone pile as a cure for Dick's weakness.

The Japanese Excel

In fine printings on Cotton Fabrics. Their beautiful ideas carried out in some of the smaller pieces for the household, prove attractive bits. We have just received among other pieces

25 Japanese Table Covers 75c Each

There are 40 in this lot, no two alike. They are 1 and 1-8 yards square, printed on a washable cotton fabric, made very attractive by their rich and beautiful combination of colorings and quaint designs, an art so well known by the Japanese.

Only 12 Japanese Pillow Tops 25 cents Each.

We could secure only a few for this shipment, they are new, and daintily designed in rich Oriental colorings, and like table covers printed on washable materials making a very practical as well as a handsome pillow covering.

Hand Drawn Collars 15c, 2 for 25 cents.

These also are made by the Japanese. They are hand work, fine in texture and the neatest of designs. They look as good as 25c collars. We have about one hundred in this lot and they are all marked 15c each or 2 for 25c.

The H.H. Griggs Co

Forward, March!

This month must be a forward movement, because February is too slow to catch a cold. No—but trade is dull in February and some stock must be moved in March that was meant for February, viz:

15 Pair, All Wool Blankets, $4.39—at $2.98
80 Pair All Cotton Blankets, $1.00—at 75c
Cheaper and more durable than sheets.

48 Comforts—worth $3.00—fancy $1.98
Velvete Carpets are smooth and have staple colors, but will be sold, this lot 25c

Wool or half Wool Ingrains to please you, 12x12 room wall paper 9 foot ceiling, with border complete 80c
And a hanger supplied if you want.

Muslin Underwear at LONG'S always was superior in material and make-up, and most garments are selling at old prices while the market is much higher.

Children's Drawers—worth 20c—at 12 1/2c
Ladies' Skirts, deep flounce and ruffle—that sells readily at $1.25 elsewhere 98c

The Shirt Waists are excellent values and selling rapidly. Our customers appreciate the efforts we make to please them. Ask your neighbor about our waists. Silk and Net Waists sell right now.

March 16 to 20 is fixed for our Spring Millinery opening. You can hardly be asked to attend it without a more than ordinary reason. Of course, we will aim to show you the finest local and eastern styles the market affords, but you want more than sight-seeing, and a special discount will be offered on all opening sales. 10 per cent cash on 10c flowers or $20.00 hats—everything in millinery.

Dirty, knotty Comfort Cotton is not cheap at any price, but good White Cotton Bats at 6c are cheap—larger sizes at 12c and 15c to suit the demand.

Dress Gingham is in and ready for spring sewing. While the fancy plaids in suitings add greatly to the sales of our dress goods department.

Turkish Towels need no mention, except that they are moving very nicely at 2 for 25c. No advance has been put up on our linen cravats, because they were bought in the early market—get them now.

More "Buster Brown" Shoes are selling than all other kinds combined. The reason is people are getting acquainted with them. A woman can get more wear out of a "White Horse" Shoe than out of two cheap ones. Felt-lined Shoes and Overs for cold feet and cheap, too. Men's Fleece-lined Work Pants, two swing pockets, two hip pockets, watch pocket—as good as two pairs, $1.25.

J. W. HANSBERGER DIED THURSDAY

A PROMINENT NEWARK MERCHANT PASSES AWAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Widow of the Late Gilbert C. Daugherty Died of Heart Trouble. Other Deaths.

Mr. J. W. Hansberger, one of the city's most prominent business men, who for the past several years has managed the Hansberger dry goods store, 116 North Fifth street, died at his home, 116 North Fifth street, at 2:30 Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Hansberger had been ill for the past three months from bronchial trouble. The sympathy of the entire city rests with the bereft family. Details of the death and funeral will appear in Friday's Advocate.

The wife of the deceased is very ill at the present time of nervous prostration, and the shock of her husband's death it is feared, will have on its effect upon her recovery.

MRS. GILBERT C. DAUGHERTY.

Mrs. Gilbert C. Daugherty, wife of one of the city's most prominent attorneys, who passed away on June 15, last year, died at her home, 87 North Sixth street, at 8 o'clock on Thursday morning as the result of a year's illness. Death was due to heart disorder.

Mrs. Daugherty, formerly Miss Elizabeth Flanagan, was born in this city March 10, 1867, and has spent practically all of her life here. She was united in marriage to Mr. Daugherty November 20, 1895. In all of her life the deceased has constantly won friends over the city and is mourned by a host of followers.

There remain three children, Philip, Mary and Catherine, and two brothers, John F. and Patrick J. Flanagan, both of this city.

The funeral will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Francis de Sales church, the Rev. Fr. B. M. O'Reilly officiating. Interment will be in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

WM. MOORE'S FUNERAL.

Funeral services over the remains of William Moore, aged 82 years, a pioneer who resided for many years on the old national pike, were held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at his home near Kirkersville, Rev. T. N. Madden of Hebron officiated. Mr. Moore was born in Belmont county in 1825, and died last Monday. He had resided at Moore's Corners since 1833.

MRS. H. CLAY MILLER

Pataskala, March 7.—Mrs. H. Clay Miller, aged 70, dropped dead at the home of her brother-in-law, A. R. Miller, south of here, last night about 6 o'clock. Heart failure was the cause of her death. Mrs. Miller has been in poor health for some time. Three sisters and her husband survive.

The funeral services will be held Friday at 10 o'clock. The body will be taken to Pataskala for burial.

ADVANTAGE OF TELEPHONE.

Many farmers do not realize the immense advantages and labor saving possibilities of the telephone. By its use one may learn from city or village the state of the market, the probable demand, any shortage that exists, and be prepared to take advantage of it promptly, while others are finding out too late that there was a brisk demand for the very goods he had to sell. The telephone is certainly the most valuable invention of the last half century, and none have benefited more by it than the farmers. They can now sell their stuff in whole or in part before leaving home and do not, as formerly, have to take the risk of driving to town with a load only to find the market glutted. There is no excuse now for making such mistakes as this and it is safe to say that no farmer who understands his business is ever caught in any such trap.

Health in the Canal Zone.

The high wages paid make it a mighty temptation to our young artists to join the force of skilled workmen needed to construct the Panama canal. Many are restrained however by the fear of fevers and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters, who go there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malarious influence with Electric Bitters on hand. Cures blood poison too, biliousness, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Guaranteed by F. D. Hall, druggist, 50c.

WEDDINGS.

HOLLANDER-HAZE.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Romaine Stanberry, West Locust street, when Mr. Charles Hollander and Miss Mary Wilson Hollander were united in wedlock.

The ceremony was solemnized at 8 o'clock this morning by Rev. J. C. Schindel in the presence of the intimate friends of the contracting parties. The bride was very becomingly attired in a modish traveling costume of brown and her only ornament was a dainty bouquet of violets.

After the ceremony an elaborate course breakfast was served. The guests present were Dr. Rank, Mr. and Mrs. William Webb, Miss Charlotte Webb, Miss Nina Webb, Ida Moore, Mrs. Rosebraugh, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Wright, Miss Fay Schaffer, Mrs. Birkey, Mrs. Eliza Jackson, Mr. C. N. Smith, Miss Nellie Smith, Mr. Robert Birkey, Mrs. Charles Yoss, Miss Romaine Stanberry, Mrs. Titus of Middletown, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollander left for a few weeks' trip through the east after which they will make their home in this city. Mr. Hollander is manager of the Newark Telephone company, and has a host of friends in the city, while Mrs. Hollander is a charming young lady prominent in society circles.

OSBORN-KEGG.

On Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock Mr. Clyde R. Osborn and Miss Pearl Viola Kegg were united in marriage at the parsonage of the Central Church of Christ, Rev. H. Newton Miller performing the ceremony. Mr. Osborn is employed at the Berger grocery on Hudson avenue, while Mrs. Osborn has been an employee of the Bell Telephone company. Mr. and Mrs. Osborn went to housekeeping at once in their newly furnished home on Moull street, where they have the best wishes of their friends.

TUCKER-HALL.

The Wheeling (W. Va.) Intelligencer of Tuesday contains the following account of the wedding of Mr. Chandler J. Tucker one of this city's most prominent young men:

A quiet, but extremely pretty wedding was celebrated yesterday evening at 4 o'clock at the bride's home, No. 2214 South Market street, when

MOTHER'S STORY AIDED HER SON

Mrs. William Thaw Creates Deep Impression in Court.

THE EXAMINATION WAS BRIEF

Threat of a Lunacy Commission Publicly Uttered by District Attorney Jerome—Two More Witnesses to Be Called by Defense—Death in President Judge's Family.

New York, March 7.—Attorneys engaged in the Thaw case had a respite today, there being no session of court owing to a death in the family of Justice Fitzgerald. The trial will be resumed Friday morning.

Mrs. William Thaw, who was called to the stand Wednesday afternoon, made an excellent impression. Her examination was brief. Twice during the examination the witness broke down and it was only with much difficulty that she was able to proceed. When Mr. Delmas had definitely limited her examination to the change she had noted in her son's condition following his return from Paris in 1903, after Evelyn Nesbit had told him her life story, and when District Attorney Jerome had with great consideration conducted a short and ineffectual cross-examination, the mother love welled strong in Mrs. Thaw and she felt she had not done her all. She was loath to leave the stand. "There is the question of heredity," she protested, when both Mr. Delmas and Mr. Jerome told her she might step down. "I have asked you, madame, all that is considered necessary," said Thaw's attorney, with the utmost deference. Mrs. Thaw half rose, hesitated, and was about to sit down again when the leading counsel for the defense offered her his hand to assist her from the stand.

Mrs. Thaw said when Harry came home in 1903 he seemed depressed and had apparently lost all interest in life. He passed sleepless nights, would often leave the table at meals and go into the parlor to play upon the piano, the music growing softer and softer until it finally died away. She told in a motherly way of her solicitude for the boy. "He told me a wicked man—probably the wickedest man in all New York—had ruined his life." It was not until some time after he had offered this explanation of the change in him that she learned the story of the young woman who was to become her daughter-in-law.

Mrs. Thaw told of her son breaking down at church in Pittsburgh, and afterward explaining that it was all because of the sorrow that prevented the young woman he loved being at his side. Mrs. Thaw told of coming to New York to meet Evelyn Nesbit and of giving her consent to her son's marriage—the one condition being that the girl's past life in New York should be a closed book, never to be referred to in any way. Then came the story of the marriage in Pittsburgh in April, 1903, the honeymoon trip and then a happy summer spent at the mother's country home in the mountains.

That was all. Mr. Delmas ended her testimony abruptly. The district attorney was taken by surprise, and began to cross-examine Mrs. Thaw in a very low voice. He asked the conditions surrounding the increase in her son's allowance, but Mr. Delmas objected. He asked what the son's income amounted to. Mrs. Thaw said it was moderate and nothing like the sum the newspapers have so often reported. Mr. Jerome next treaded upon what he must have felt was the thinnest of ice, lest he put himself in the attitude of attempting to harass the pathetic figure in black on the witness stand. He asked the mother what she knew of her son's relations with Miss Nesbit before she became his wife. "Nothing," she replied, without hesitating.

Attorney Jerome gave the impression that he might use the mother's testimony as a weapon in another direction—in his fight to have a commission appointed to test the present state of mind of the defendant. He engaged in a wordy war with Mr. Delmas, during which he uttered publicly for the first time the threat of a lunacy commission. Mr. Delmas was invoking the presumption of law that Thaw, declared insane in 1903, remained insane in 1904. This was to enable Mrs. Thaw to state conversations with her son during the latter year. These conversations were admissible only on the ground that they were the utterances of a person mentally irresponsible. Mr. Jerome said there was no reason why the assumption should not continue down to the present day, and if Mr. Delmas' point was well taken, the trial should be suspended and a commission appointed. Mr. Jerome added that he was merely suggesting the alternative of a commission for the sake of argument. Justice Fitzgerald upheld Mr. Delmas' position and said the question of a commission was not before the court.

With the completion of Mrs. William Thaw's testimony, Thaw's attorneys announced that they would have but two more witnesses—experts—who will be called upon to answer a newly framed hypothetical question covering the entire case from beginning to end. These experts are said to be Drs. Graeme M. Hammond and Smith E. Jelliffe.

English Strike-Breakers.
Hamburg, March 7.—The dispute between the ship owners and the stevedores here becomes every day more acute. The harbor traffic union has engaged 2,000 English stevedores, 800 of whom have arrived here, to take the place of the strikers. Only those stevedores who sign an agreement to do both day and night work will be further employed by the union. The imported English stevedores are quartered on ships in the harbor in order to avoid their coming in contact with the discontented men ashore.

AN OPEN SWITCH CAUSED WRECK

Train Went Down a 25 Foot Embankment, Injuring Nine Persons.

Warren, Pa., March 7.—Train No. 33 on the western New York and Pennsylvania division of the Pennsylvania railroad was wrecked between Irvington and this place. The train plunged over a 25-foot embankment and nine persons were injured. The seriously injured were: Egbert Phelps, Randolph, N. Y.; Mrs. Egbert Phelps, Randolph, N. Y.; Anne Corbett, Parkers Landing, Pa.; R. W. Roberts, Chicago, a salesman; Joseph Gazety, Olean, N. Y., brakeman. An open switch caused the wreck.

Train Purposely Derailed.
Cayuga, Ont., March 7.—The Washburn limited, bound from St. Louis for Buffalo, was purposely derailed at Canfield Junction to prevent it crashing into a Grand Trunk railroad train. No passengers were hurt, but James Scovel, the fireman, of Detroit, was slightly injured.

Seven Persons Injured.
Neoga, Ill., March 7.—Seven persons were injured, four seriously, in a collision on the Toledo, St. Louis & Western railroad here. Eastbound passenger train No. 4 ran into local freight No. 29. The engine of the passenger train was demolished. The seriously injured: Edward Kennedy, engineer freight train, Charleston, Ill.; Mrs. Cora Welton, Greentown, Ind.; Allen Gaskell, Neoga, Ill.; Mrs. E. J. Ford, Delphos, O.

To Check Jap Poachers.
St. Petersburg, March 7.—In order to prevent the Japanese from poaching on the sparsely guarded Siberian littoral during the fishing season commencing in April, Russia has decided to send to the Pacific two small cruises which are now in the Black sea. They will pass through the Dardanelles with their guns mounted, under a private agreement with Turkey. The treaty negotiations between Russia and Japan are still hanging fire, Japan evidently awaiting the parliamentary developments here before entering into a definite agreement.

STANDARD OIL CO. WILL MAKE FIGHT

Against Indictments Charging a Violation of the Elkins Law Against Rebating.

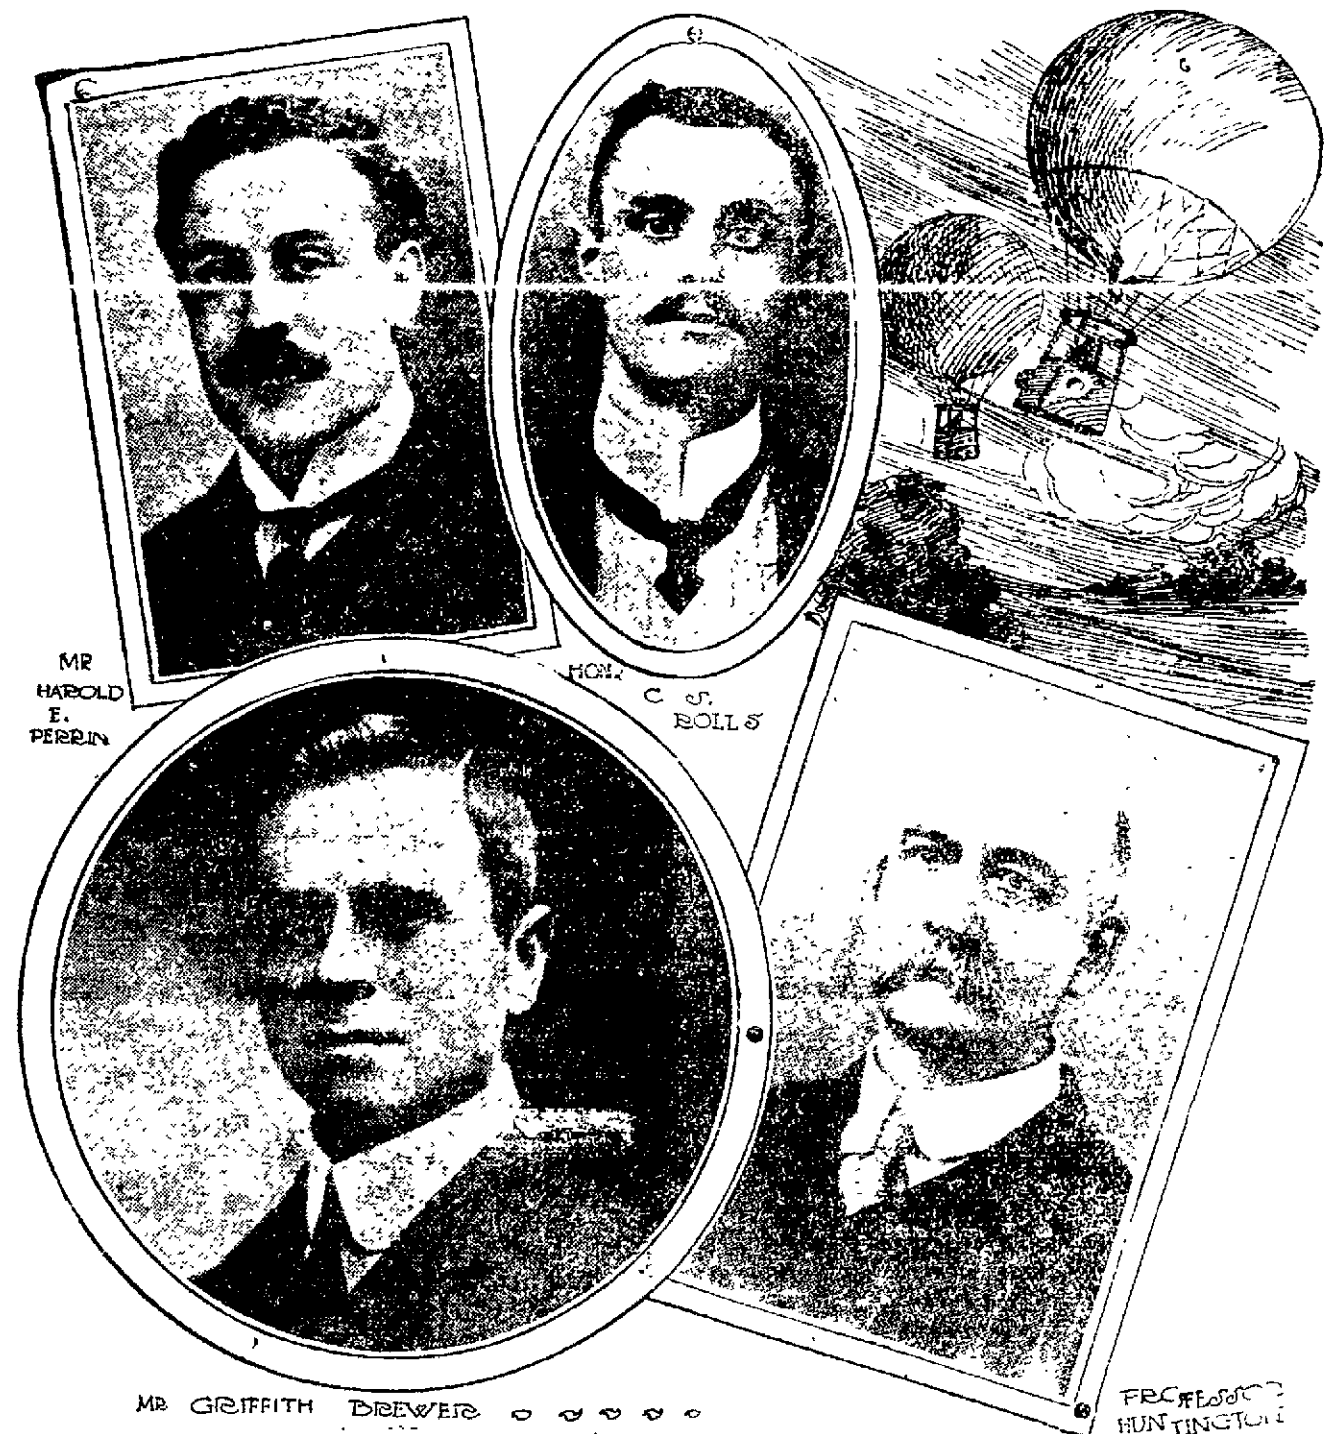

Chicago, March 7.—It is evident that the attorneys for the Standard Oil company of Indiana, now on trial in the federal court on indictments for alleged violation of the Elkins act, are determined to make a strong fight against the indictments proper. The day in court was marked by a continued succession of extended arguments in which the Standard Oil attorneys contended that the government must prove certain facts alleged in the indictments or abandon its case. The principal point upon which their attacks centered was the "legation made in the indictments that the Elkins law was violated by shipments of oil made from Whiting, Ind., to St. Louis, Mo., over the Chicago & Alton. It was asserted by the defense that the law could not have been violated in this manner, for the simple reason that the Chicago & Alton does not extend to St. Louis, Mo., but terminates on the opposite side of the river, at East St. Louis, Ill.

PACKERS SUE IN KENTUCKY

Frankfort, Ky., March 7.—In the name of the commonwealth suits were begun in court here seeking to recover sums aggregating $25,000 from Nelson Morris & Company, William Horner & Company, Cudahy Packing company and Omaha Packing company. The petitions claim money is due the state under a law requiring payment by packing companies of 50 cents on each $100 of gross receipts from Kentucky. The cases cover a period from 1902 to 1906.

Four hundred tons of beet root will yield from 25 to 30 tons of sugar.

GREAT BRITAIN SELECTS PROMINENT AERONAUTS IN AN EFFORT TO WIN THE INTERNATIONAL CUP.

London, March 7.—Although four men have been chosen as the British team for this year's Coupe Internationale, the Hon. C. S. Rolls, Professor Huntington and Mr. Griffith Brewer are certain to be the reserve. The Hon. C. S. Rolls was well known as an automobilist long before he took up with aeronautics. The same cool judgment which marks his automobile racing characterizes his ballooning. Mr. A. K. Huntington is professor of metallurgy at King's college, London. He first showed his interest in ballooning about five years ago. Since then besides making private experiments he has made between 40 and 50 public ascents. He took part in last year's Coupe Internationale. Mr. Griffith Brewer first became prominent in aeronautics in 1891. Since then he has made 48 ascents. Last year, starting from London, Mr. Brewer was in the air 11 hours and 40 minutes on one of his trips. In this he covered 170 miles eventually landing at Driffield, in Yorkshire. Mr. Wallace, K. C., is chairman of the Aero club of the United Kingdom. He made several balloon journeys last year. His greatest performance was to uproot several telegraph poles close to a railway line while he was descending, owing to the trailers catching in the wires. Fortunately no claim was made in this particular instance.

PRESIDENT CASTRO HAS RECOVERED FROM OPERATIONS

Caracas, March 7.—The wounds from the last operation performed on President Castro have healed. Unless unforeseen complications occur, it is predicted that the president will return to Caracas within a month. This does not mean, however, that he will completely recover, for it is certain that President Castro never will be the same man again. His disease had reached a stage where death follows only by the slow destruction of the tissues, and every authoritative source unites in the statement that the immediate danger is over. Important administrative changes are promised when President Castro returns to Caracas.

CHARGED WITH WIFE MURDER

Dothan, Ala., March 7.—Frank Fowler, a sawmill owner, living a short distance south of here, was arrested, charged with murdering his wife. Major Atkins, who lived with the family, was also placed under arrest as an accomplice to the deed. The head of the dead woman was badly bruised, her jaw broken, with numerous bruises on the body. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the woman came to her death at the hands of her husband. She is said to have carried considerable insurance. A young daughter of Fowler states that he killed her mother and threatened her life if she told. Fowler is a prominent citizen and much excitement prevails.

Where Is the Crew?
Holyhead, Wales, March 7.—The Ketch Esmeralda, with a large quantity of gunpowder on board, was towed in here. She was found drifting in the Irish channel, in the path of the American liners. There was nobody on board the Ketch and an empty boat belonging to her was picked up half a mile away from the Esmeralda. Her appearance suggested the hurried departure of her crew.

John N. Reed died suddenly at Mt. Vernon this morning. He was exceedingly wealthy and leaves a large estate.

AMNESTY FOR TERRORISTS

As Well as For All Political Offenders Imprisoned or Exiled.

DEMAND OF THE RADICALS

Lower House of the Russian Parliament Soon to Present Petitions to the Czar—Conservatives and Constitutional Democrats Hold Caucuses—Premier's Message.

St. Petersburg, March 7.—The tone of Premier Stolypin's declaration to parliament is temperate but firm. It lays down the exact limits to which the cabinet is prepared to go, and outlines with considerable detail the program of legislation he desires enacted.

The presentation of the lower house of a petition for amnesty for all political offenders except those guilty of actual murder probably will result from a conference of the Conservative deputies held here. At this meeting it was decided to support any request made by the Liberal members of the house for the pardon of all persons imprisoned or exiled for revolutionary agitation or propaganda whose hands were not actually stained with blood. The radicals desire to make this demand include those guilty of murder, but in order to secure a unanimous vote they probably will consent to a separation of the two classes and present an appeal for the terrorists as a separate motion.

The central committee of the Constitutional Democrats also held an important meeting to hear the report of M. Golovin, president of the lower house, on his audience with Emperor Nicholas, and to consider the Socialist protest against the candidacy for the vice presidency of the lower house of M. Tesinko. The emperor's cordial reception of M. Golovin and his declaration of good will toward parliament created an excellent impression on the central committee and dispelled the fears that the governing body was seeking only a good opportunity to disperse this second parliament and rule the country until a successor be brought together.

BOGUS DRAFTS WERE DESTROYED IN A ROBBERY

Peoria, Ill., March 7.—The discovery that $100,000 in bogus drafts alleged to have been executed by N. C. Dougherty, and paid through the defunct Peoria National bank by school funds, were destroyed when the school board vault was robbed, has given the officials of the law a new clue toward the motive which lay behind the safe robbery. These drafts constituted a liability against the stockholders of the bank, some of whom are among the most prominent citizens of Peoria. Dougherty, who is now in Joliet penitentiary, was superintendent of schools here and was one of the leaders of the National Educational association.

FALLS 35 FEET BUT WAS UNHURT

Porter at Chittenden Drops From the Skylight to Office Floor—Smashes Chair on His Way.

Columbus, March 7.—Twice in the last six months Joseph Bond, porter at the Chittenden, has fallen a distance of 35 feet and escaped unhurt. He seems to have a charmed life, and since the incident which occurred yesterday Manager Court is thinking of discharging him in order that he can take a more lucrative position as a porter for a living machine. He believes Bond could fall any distance and go up without anything but a little dust on his clothes.

Bond is white and about 25 years old. Yesterday he was coming on the skylight of the north. He stepped on a board the board slipped, and he was hurled to the hard tile floor a distance of 35 feet. In falling he struck an office chair, smashing it, and then continued to the floor. Manager Court and others rushed to him, thinking that of course he was killed. To their great surprise he arose and began laughing off his clothes.

"Mr. Court," he began, more apologetically than otherwise, "I broke that skylight accidentally. Let me know how much it is and I'll pay for it."

Dr. Bassell, the house physician, examined the man but could find no injuries other than some minor bruises which gave him no inconvenience.

Last summer Bond was working on the building now occupied by the Beggs department stores, and at that time fell through the package elevator a distance of 35 feet. He fell on a pile of scrap iron but was unhurt.

Kills Divorce Craft.

Pierre, S. D., March 7.—The house passed the senate divorce bill, requiring a residence of one year in the state and three months in the county before beginning a divorce suit, with all hearings in open court. This law kills the divorce industry of the state, which has become distasteful to the people of South Dakota.

CHANGE OF VENUE IN HARGIS CASE

Jackson, Ky., March 7.—Judge Carnes entered an order directing that the cases of the commonwealth against James Hargis, Elbert Hargis, John Smith and John Abner, charged with the assassination of Dr. Cox, be transferred to Elliott county. The commonwealth saved an exception to the order, and so did the defense. Judge Carnes left for his home and the militia went with him. Judge Hargis, Elbert Hargis and John Abner have given $10,000 bond each for appearance in Martinsburg, Elliott county, at the regular term of court, the last week in May. Smith was replaced in jail.

Firemen Injured.

Philadelphia, March 7.—Fire in a six-story building in Filbert street caused damage of $100,000. Five firemen were severely injured by the collapse of a fire escape on which they were standing, fighting the flames. The concerns which suffered most are Stern & Company, manufacturers of shirt waists; the Standard Sewing Machine company; Supple-Reeve-Whiting company, umbrella manufacturers; and Belknap, Johnson & Powell, umbrella manufacturers.

Charge Against Judge.

San Francisco, March 7.—As a result of the charge of intoxication made by Assistant Attorney Hony against Superior Judge Hebbard, who on Monday granted a writ of error to Abraham Ruef, a meeting of the Bar association has been called for Friday to consider the matter. Judge Hebbard now is at the Clara Barton hospital under the care of a physician and a trained nurse.

Storm Disturbed Salton Sea.

Los Angeles, March 7.—Advisers at the Southern Pacific's general offices here from the vicinity of Salton sea state that the storm produced high waves on the inland sea, causing a portion of the railroad company's tracks to be submerged and entailing some damage. Trains were delayed on that account, but they are moving both ways again on schedule, as the injury to the tracks has been repaired. The storm has entirely subsided and the sea is again quiet.

ATTORNEY RUEF STILL MISSING

San Francisco, March 7.—Attorney Abraham Ruef, jointly indicted with Mayor Schmitz on five charges of extortion, is still a fugitive from justice, according to Superior Judge Dunne, who decided that Sheriff O'Neill had not shown due diligence in producing him for trial, and appointed Coroner Walsh as elisor to serve a bench warrant for his appearance in court. The coroner was ordered to make a return of service Thursday afternoon.

Schmitz Talks.

San Francisco, March 7.—Mayor Schmitz arrived here from Washington. It was said he would issue a statement on the whole Japanese situation within a few days. In response to a question as to whether he would be a candidate to succeed himself, he declared that he would stand by his guns and that he would not be driven out by the newspapers.

Suffragists' Plans.

London, March 7.—The woman suffragists by insisting upon martyrdom, are placing the authorities in an embarrassing position. Mrs. Despard, a sister of General French, and several of her fellow agitators, were released after a term in prison for participation in the recent agitation at the house of commons. James Keir Harrie M. P., the labor leader, presided at a public breakfast given in honor of these women. Several of the suffragists delivered speeches, in which they announced their purpose of forcing the authorities to keep them in prison by committing breaches of the peace until suffrage legislation is enacted.

Japanese Loan.

Paris, March 7.—The Credit Lyonnais is to handle the largest portion of that half of the Japanese conversion loan of $115,000,000 allotted to France. The loan will be issued at 5 per cent and the issue price will be 93 1/2.

WARNING NOTE BY HARRIMAN

Hard Times Unless Attacks on Great Corporations Cease.

MOGUL UNBOSOMS HIMSELF

Interests of the Country He Says Demand There Should Be Some Revision of the Tariff—Denies Having Secured Control of Reading—Strenuous Day in Wall Street.

New York, March 7.—In an interview, E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, discussed the transportation problem, railroad legislation, the tariff, the currency question, the attitude of the public toward the railroad corporations and the probability of a panic in the future.

Discussing the currency and the tariff, Mr. Harriman said: "I think that the currency and tariff questions should be settled in a more definite way before congress and the present administration devote so much precious time regulating the railroads. The interests of the country demand that there should be some modification of the tariff, but since we have no McKinley or Dingley I fear that the prospects for such legislation are not very encouraging. The United States will not always enjoy the prosperity that has prevailed during the last decade. Hard times will certainly come again unless congress and the people generally change their tactics toward the railroads and corporate interests."

As an argument against the tendency for a wholesale reduction in railroad rates, Mr. Harriman called attention to the increased cost of everything that enters into the maintenance of railroads.

Mr. Harriman commended the stand taken by President Roosevelt in a recent message to congress when he advocated a "reciprocal agreement" between the government and the railroads.

Wild Day in Wall Street.

Wall street seldom, if ever, has seen such violent fluctuations in prices of securities as those which occurred Wednesday. The market was tossed from the start. The whole movement was without definite news to explain it, but the volume of the operations was sufficient to stamp them as coming from sources of importance. Wall street parlance has found a phrase, "rich men's panic," to define the condition. This is based on the supposition that men of great wealth, who accumulated large holdings of last year, finding themselves without prospect of selling out to advantage in the present public distaste for the stock markets, have been prompted to liquidate their holdings as best they may. Into this condition of sentiment was precipitated a report that carried with it an inference that the supposedly distressed capitalists were in reality taking advantage of the unsettlement of values to carry out another daring exploit.

The rumor was alleged with positiveness that certain large centralized holdings of Reading had been taken over by Mr. Harriman, securing his control of the property. The heavy liquidation in Atchison was alleged to be of Union Pacific holdings, to provide resources for the Reading operation. The bears in Reading were thrown into a panic, and there was a scramble to cover all through the list. The Reading rumor came into the market in the midst of a drastic liquidating movement in Canadian Pacific, which had forced that stock down over seven points below Tuesday's closing level. There was also very heavy liquidation in Pennsylvania, Anaconda and Copper and Union Pacific. The Reading incident turned prices up and the last quotations were the best of the day.

Mr. Harriman refused to answer the direct question as to whether he had secured control of the Reading.

A SECOND SUIT MAY BE FILED AGAINST MRS. EDDY

Boston, March 7.—Former United States Senator William E. Chandler, special agent for George Washington Glover of Lord, S. D., and other defendants in the Christy case, has filed a second suit against Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, claiming one official in three states, and that possibly a second suit will be instituted in either the state or federal court in Massachusetts. Mr. Chandler has been in consultation here for two days with the other counsel for the plaintiff.

The Japanese government has bought and paid for the Seoul-Chemulpo (Korea) Railway, paying $15,000 for each $15 paid-up share. Including the Seoul-Fusan railway, the price was $11,000,000.

OCEAN VOYAGE AFOOT.

Captain Oldrieve Will Undertake Trip Across Atlantic.

WALKED ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

Man Who Covered Distance of 1,600 Miles on Water Shoes Will Next Try English Channel and Then the Ocean. What He Has Accomplished.

Captain Charles W. Oldrieve, who recently landed in New Orleans after walking the water from Cincinnati, O., a distance of 1,600 miles, winning the world's championship and a bet of $5,000, now announces that he will shortly walk across the English channel and then undertake a trip over the Atlantic ocean on his water shoes.

Captain Oldrieve's shoes with which he walks on water weigh twenty pounds each and are seven feet six inches long, seven inches deep and six inches broad. They are made of canvas stretched over a light framework of cedar. On the bottoms of the shoes, or batteaux, are flaps which work with the action of the water and prevent the wearer from going backward after he has made a step forward.

The $5,000 wager is on deposit in a Boston bank, and Oldrieve and his wife will get it, says a New Orleans special to the Washington Post. Mrs. Oldrieve also won a championship in rowing the 1,800 miles unattended. Her face was ruddy and tanned from exposure, and her hands were hard from the constant rowing and handling the boat. Her husband resembles a midget beside her. She is a six foot brunette, weighing 250 pounds. She is a native of Nova Scotia, spending her girlhood in a little hamlet 100 miles from Halifax. She has practiced rowing for sixteen years, being taught by Captain Oldrieve while he was courting her.

Oldrieve is a native of Boston. His first attempt at promenading the water was made in Massachusetts bay Dec. 22, 1889, and later the day became general around Boston. The type of his shoes is an improved model of the batteaux invented by Ed Hanlon, the oarsman. Oldrieve was first introduced to the public by Frank J. Piller at Narragansett Pier, Piller advancing him $500 and starting him in the business.

"We had some mighty hard pulls," said Mrs. Oldrieve, "and no sum of money would tempt me to allow my husband to make the trip again on the Mississippi river. I know he could not do it, because I am the only one who would follow him in the lifeboat and keep him from drowning. I was right behind him all the time. I feared all along that something would happen, and there was hardly a day that we did not have an accident."

"The falls of the Ohio river were easy for my husband," continued Mrs. Oldrieve, "and he walked over them twice, once blindfolded. They say that Captain Oldrieve does not walk; that he shuffles along in the water. This is not true. He does walk on the waves, and his time is faster than the current. We even beat the gasoline launch containing Captain Weatherington after we left Baton Rouge, La. For three days we did not see the launch. We spent our nights in the homes of plantation owners."

"I've done something nobody else has ever done," said Oldrieve, with a satisfied air, "and I don't think I could beat my own record. After I have regained my health I shall walk from England to France on my water shoes. I will cover the route from Dover to Calais and then I shall make a try for a transatlantic feat."

"For twenty-five days during my walk down the Mississippi river I waded through rain and sleet, and my wife in her open boat was exposed to the same trying conditions. Several times the swamp chills and fevers seized us, but we worked through it all and won out. I was all in when the 1,600 mile post was reached."

Oldrieve was backed by Captain J. W. Weatherington of Dallas, Tex., and the wager was laid by Ed Williams, a sporting man of Boston, and Orthus Jones, a representative of Williams, and Weatherington followed Oldrieve in a gasoline launch to see that he made good.

Valuable Seed Corn.

A single ear of Reid Yellow Dent corn, weighing nineteen ounces, sold recently at the Iowa State college for the phenomenal price of $150, which is at the rate of $8.85 per bushel. Each kernel is worth 13 cents. Dan L. Pascal of De Witt, a member of the Iowa Corn Growers' association, who grew this remarkable ear, was its purchaser at the sale, which has eclipsed all previous prices for corn and established a world's record. The grand champion single ear last year brought only $11 and was grown by H. J. Ross of Faragut, Ia.

Overheard at Thaw Trial.

At one point in the Thaw trial recently Mr. Jerome suggested that it would be advisable to take a recess to air the room. It was exceedingly stuffy and almost impossible to work in such an atmosphere. Thaw himself was growing sleepy and was told by Mr. Peabody that if a juror dropped off it would be a contempt of court punishable by imprisonment.

"What would they do to me if I fell asleep?" he asked.

"They'll put you in jail," replied his counsel.

Jap Colony in Canada.

A scheme is on foot for creating a Japanese agricultural colony in the heart of Alberta, Canada.

BLADENSBURG.

Mr. Albert Munn suffered a stroke of paralysis Tuesday, but is better at this writing.

Mrs. Sade Hall and sons Howard and Harry spent Tuesday and Wednesday visiting friends in Gambier.

Mrs. Allie Rice and Mrs. May Stenchocker attended the funeral of Clyde Lovell at Martinsburg Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hall are the proud parents of a baby girl, born on Tuesday.

Margaret Wolfe and Letitia Diven of Martinsburg and Cinda Webb of Dusky Bottom, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. John Cessna.

Miss Bertha Smith returned to her home in Columbus Saturday after a two weeks' visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Van Voorhis.

Miss Tom Porterfield entertained her sister, Miss Grace Hughes of Martinsburg Tuesday.

APPLETON.

Rev. Mr. Long did not fill his appointment at the Christian church on Sunday because of the illness of his father, John Long.

Mrs. Lydia Cosner is gradually failing.

Aunt Hattie Butt is a little improved.

Grandma Wilson is no better.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Vanfossen and son Harry, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Northup attended the funeral of Mrs. O. P. Vanfossen's father, Mr. Patrick Brall at Croton Sunday. Mrs. Brazil is also very ill.

Mr. D. H. Woods and Michael O'Neil went over to Columbus Friday to visit wife and mother, who has been at the hospital for some time. She is reported as improving and is expected to come home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatch and daughter Helen, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Shipley visited at Orlando Dunbar's Thursday.

Mr. Rolla Decrow a student at the Beane college, Newark, came home Friday night and returned Sunday.

Mrs. Hannah Trotter is numbered among the sick this week.

The funeral services of Mrs. Hugh Totten were held at the Christian church Sunday at 3 p. m. On account of sickness the father and daughter, Maggie, were unable to attend. Rev. Mr. Smith of the M. E. church at Croton, conducted the services, taking for his text Luke 24 and a part of the 29: "Abide with us; for it is toward evening."

Mrs. A. M. Iles received the sad news of the death of her brother, Frank Miller of Utica. Mr. Miller was a highly respected citizen of that place, and was well known throughout this part of the country.

Miss Lulu Shipley was absent from school last week on account of the sickness of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman, near Homer, with whom she makes her home.

Mr. Earl Smith was out of school one day last week.

Mr. Orlando Dumbauld and family visited C. E. Dixon of Utica R. D. Sunday.

RUPTURE

New Scientific Appliance, Always a Perfect Fit—Adjustable to Any Size Person—Easy, Comfortable, Never Sticks, No Obnoxious Springs or Pads—Costs Less Than Many Common Trusses—Made for Men, Women or Children.

SENT ON TRIAL.

I have invented a rupture appliance that I can safely say, by 20 years' experience in the rupture business, is the only one that will absolutely hold the rupture and never slip and yet is light, cool, comfortable, conforms to every movement of the body without chafing or hurting and costs less than many ordinary trusses. There are no springs or hard, lumpy pads and yet it holds the rupture safely and firmly without pain or inconvenience. I have put the price so low that any person, rich or poor, can buy, and I absolutely guarantee it.

I make it to your order—send it to you—you wear it, and if it doesn't satisfy you send it back to me and I will refund your money.

That is the fairest proposition ever made by a rupture specialist. The banks or any responsible citizens in Marshall will tell you that is the way I do business—always absolutely on the square.

If you have tried most everything else, come to me. Where others fail is where I have my greatest success. Write me today and I will send you my book on Rupture and its Cure, showing my appliance and giving you prices and names of people who have tried it and been cured. It is instant relief when all others fail. Remember I use no salves, no harness, no lies. Just a straight business deal at a reasonable price.

HARRIMAN THE MAN.

Some Glimpses of the Railroad Magnate at Sea.

QUIET AND UNOBTRUSIVE.

A War Correspondent's Account of a Voyage With Him, in Contrast With Two United States Senators—What the Japanese Think of Harriman.

My first glimpse of the rail man was on a voyage, writes Frederick Palmer, the famous war correspondent, in Collier's. When the ocean is the Pacific and there are few people aboard you learn to follow passengers pretty well. So you did on this occasion, including two United States senators. Harriman spent more time with the engineer than with them.

We started from Yokohama with the idea of beating the record to San Francisco. A smooth sea all the way meant an even chance of success. This disappeared for everybody except Harriman when the first three days were entirely unpropitious. I think that he thought he must succeed because he himself was aboard. When some one offered him a bet of $2,000 to $1,000 that he would fail he took it. Then he started out to win the bet with all the zest that he has shown in obtaining control over a new railroad. Fair weather broke the next day and continued. We began to feel that the quiet little man was putting demoniacal energy into the stokers and into the very engines. By the dramatic space of a few minutes he won. Harriman never advertised the fact that he gave the $2,000 to the engine room crew. Winning was the point in mind.

On the whole he was the least obtrusive of any great millionaire with whom I have ever come in contact. Whether he is doing a kindness or doing business, he never uses words where thought or action will take their place. I noticed that when he told a steward to move a lady's chair to a better position it was in an undertone of brevity. The lady did not know of his thoughtfulness. She would if James J. Hill had been in Harriman's place. Pierpont Morgan's politeness would have had the aplomb of a Jove.

The two senators were always ready to pick up Harriman's handkerchief, although they are on record as trust busters. When you cut away their egotism and glad handism the skeleton that remained consisted merely of a rubber backbone and floating ribs. On one occasion Senator N. looking around for an audience, engaged Harriman in a discussion of the rate problem. It was the encounter of a rapier and a pillow full of words. Besides, Harriman was not arguing; he was telling us.

Senator W. said that he hoped to avoid the importunate interviewers in San Francisco because he did not want any "newspaper glory." When he arrived he graciously distributed a long typewritten statement and called the reporters "boys." He said that he would wait over a day instead of taking the next morning's Overland limited. I found afterward that he had gone on the Pacific express, because passes are not honored on the Overland.

Meanwhile the king—no fat, overfed, smug, vulgar, easy going king, but a self made, intense, Argus eyed, little, efficient king—had gone aboard the tug waiting for him and was being shot across the country by the mighty organization he controlled, and controlled so absolutely perhaps because senators are cheap. So cheap were these two that you could not withhold your admiration from Harriman as a thoroughbred fighting man.

The contrast made me understand the point of view of the Japanese, who, being foreigners, can see us in the large. They looked on Harriman as one of the really great men of America, a commander, who is the counterpart of a Togo, an Oyama, or a Kuroki: a type of creative organizer who has brought to America the industrial power which they so desire to emulate and in the country where the civilian is supposed to be of a lower breed than the official they gave the man who had never held office at home more honors than they had ever paid to any visiting American since Grant.

Quite a number of our people have been very ill with lung fever and pneumonia, but all are now convalescing. Those on the sick list are G. C. Miller, Mrs. T. Spitzer, Mrs. J. Allen, Mrs. Riter Wycoff, May Schellenberger, Mrs. Cooperrider, and the Marjorie Holmes and Johnnie Mansberger.

Baptismal services will be held at the M. E. church Sunday next.

Mrs. Myrtle Spangler and daughter Goldie returned home Wednesday after a week's visit with friends here.

Bible reading was held at Jennie Linn's Mission Sunday night. Mrs. Linn will return here in a short time to hold a ten days' meeting.

John Spurgeon of Kirksville was a business caller here Saturday.

A number of men were here Wednesday distributing poles for the Bell Telephone company.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. N. Mansberger, a daughter.

It is reported that measles have broken out in the family of E. Keller.

Lizzie Bell visited her mother Julia White Tuesday.

Reuben Schellenberger is building a cottage at Summerland Beach.

It is rumored that work will begin this month on the electric road between this place and Lancaster.

CONSULT DR. BROWN—OHIO'S WELL KNOWN SPECIALIST IN

PRIVATE AND BLOOD DISEASES OF MEN

MY GUARANTEE—No Charge for Service Unless Cured

Numerous Pelvic Diseases AND THEIR DANGEROUS DEVELOPMENT

Blood Poison If you have sore throat, mouth ulcers, pimples, copper-colored spots, sores and ulcers, bone pains, falling hair or any other symptoms of Contagious Blood Poison, in either primary or secondary stage, come to me and be forever rid of it. My treatment quickly destroys the virus, clears the skin, purifies the blood and thoroughly cleanses and eradicates all traces of the poison from the system. I stop its progress, and all danger of transmission or recurrence is removed.

The treatment I administer for Blood Poison acts rapidly upon the diseased blood cells, expelling the poison therefrom and soon shows to the entire satisfaction of the patient that the deadly virus or poison is being forever exterminated from the system and the cure effected. I want every victim of this disease who has heretofore treated without benefit, and WHO REALLY DESIRES TO BE CURED, to call upon me here at my office or write me. I will take pleasure in explaining to you a treatment that is DEATH TO DEADLY BLOOD POISON. This treatment contains nothing that is injurious to the health of the patient, but strengthens and rebuilds him from the damaging effects of the disease, causing him to increase in flesh, the skin to regain its healthy color and condition, and in fact by removing the poison from the system, restores to the sufferer that which the disease has impaired. IF YOU CONSULT ME ABOUT YOUR CASE, I WILL TELL YOU NOTHING.

Nervous Debility Men whose manhood is diminishing and who are unable to perform their duty to themselves to take prompt steps to relieve a condition which ultimately leads to misery and ruin. At no time in a man's life does he need more the service of a skilled specialist. I give each and every case individual treatment and my original perfected methods are safe, sure and certain in bringing back strength and vigor. They build up the physical, mental and vital man, permanently stop all drains or vital losses, invigorate the wasted organs and soon restore the sufferer to ROBUST MANHOOD.

Piles and Fistula These diseases absolutely demand the diagnosis and treatment of a specialist. I possess a knowledge of these diseases which has been acquired by years of study and experience. I attribute my success in the cure of the same to the fact that I remove the primary cause instead of attempting first to eradicate the local symptoms. This is the reason surgery in the treatment of Piles and Fistula has been a complete failure to cure, because the knife does not remove the cause of the disease, and thousands throughout the United States have been left perfect wrecks after the use of the knife. I especially want those to consult me who have failed with other doctors and have not received a cure, and any physician who has a stubborn case under his care is invited to consult me by appointment.

Varicocele Varicocele is the most treacherous and silent of all known ailments of men. It makes its appearance apparently without cause, but never ceases in its destructive influence until it robs a man of all his vigor, vitality, making him a complete physical wreck. Under my treatment a healthy circulation of blood is quickly re-established to the parts, the wasted glands and organs are enlarged and permanent strength and vitality are given to the organism. Every trace of weakness disappears, drains and emissions cease, the weakened system is strengthened, you become stronger and better in every way and will soon possess the sense of well-being which accompanies good health and robust manhood.

Stricture My treatment gives instant relief from pain, stops all inflammation, emissions, and permanently frees the urinary canal from all obstruction. I remove every trace of the disease without resorting to the pain or danger of the old-time operation method. In justice to my treatment, which has never yet met with failure, where used according to instructions, I only ask a thorough investigation to make you, if you are a sufferer from this often fatally neglected disease, one of the many who are today indorsing my methods and sending others to me for treatment.

Hydrocele My method promptly reduces the enlarged condition of the scrotum and speedily and permanently restores the part to perfect health and soundness. No pain or detention from business. A speedy and lasting cure guaranteed in every case I accept for treatment.

Kidney, Bladder and Prostatic Diseases I master these diseases because I have found a new and mighty weapons with which to fight them. My treatment goes direct to the root of the trouble, the proper remedies are supplied, and diseased conditions are overcome by prompt and effective measures and the patient is soon dismissed perfectly cured. Do not allow these terrible diseases to get the start of you, at the very first symptoms consult a reliable specialist. Your very life may depend upon prompt action.

Skin Diseases and Ulcers I cure all acute, chronic, cancerous tumors and ulcers without burning pastes or salves. Skin diseases, such as pimples, boils, eruptions or eczema, quickly disappear under my special and modern methods of treatment.

IRON TRADE REVIEW

Cleveland, O., March 7.—The Iron and Trade Review today says:

Whatever lull has been experienced in the iron trade since the first of the year has been attributed to the alleged retrenchment policies adopted by some of the leading trunk lines.

Postponements of rail and car deliveries by a few of the roads have been magnified by those who have been forecasting a slump in iron and steel values, and the reports that have emanated from certain financial centers have been indicative of a general curtailment of purchases and a suspension of shipments of material already ordered.

In fact, however, only two roads of prominence have concluded that the retrenchment period has arrived—the Wabash, which has temporarily suspended operations on all new undertakings, and a western road, which in its mad rush to the coast, has been expending an average of $1,000,000 monthly. Despite this curtailment the letter system has recently promulgated a list of machine tool requirements which will cost approximately $100,000, and which indicates that its more important extension work alone has been affected.

The Grand Trunk is proceeding with the erection of shops at Battle Creek, Mich., which, when completed will represent an expenditure of $5,000,000, machine tool builders only recently having been asked to figure on the equipment requirements. The Big Four is likewise going ahead with the erection of its new shops at Indianapolis, which will require at least four years to complete.

It is frankly admitted by the rail makers that there has been some readjustment of shipments, due to the postponement of deliveries for a few of the roads, but in no instances have the manufacturers been embarrassed, as other roads anxiously awaited an opportunity to step into the breach.

On March 1, the rail bookings of the Carnegie Steel company for 1907 were within 80,000 tons of the total ordered last year, and the indications are that the phenomenal record of 1906 will be surpassed in the remaining ten months.

Nor is the situation, as reported regarding the car builders, borne out by the facts. As in rails, there has been a readjustment of shipments.

but these deferred deliveries have in no degree resulted in a curtailment of the output of any of the car plants. Most of the roads were anxious to have their orders brought forward, the car shortage still figuring as the all important factor preventing the satisfactory movement of freight.

During the past two months of this year, it is estimated that contracts for no less than 40,000 cars were placed, one manufacturer alone having been awarded 22,000 of this total. In further refutation of the curtailment charges it can be reliably stated that the majority of these cars are for delivery this year, and only a few of the builders are in position to make reservations before December.

Time of delivery, rather than prices governed the placing of practically all of these orders, and instead of reducing the accumulation of car orders, one builder reports that his total was increased 5,000 during the months of January and February.

It has been hinted that the steel casting plants have suffered in sympathy with the car works. On the contrary, most of the foundries specializing in railroad work have been operating at their capacity, and in the St. Louis district, where one-third of the country's output is produced, orders were recently placed for boilers for 16,000 cars, which amounts to practically 23,000 tons of finished sections.

Brother Gardner's General Remarks

Clingstone Johnson of South Carolina Comes In For a Raking at the Limekiln Club.

[Copyright, 1906, by P. C. Eastment.]

WHEN the Limekiln club had finished the regular order of business at its last meeting, Brother Gardner arose with a very serious expression of countenance, and after a long look up and down the hall he said:

"Gentlemen of this club, I feel it my duty to make a few general remarks disavowing on a subject that concerns us all. 'Bout fo' weeks ago de Hon. Clingstone Johnson of South Carolina, arrove yere to make a speech befo' dis club. I didn't zactly like de looks of de man. He was too long in de back of de neck and too short in de legs. His eyes was too close together and his mouf too fur apart. He had de appetite of a boss while claimin' to hev de sentiment of a poet.

"All of you will remember dat speech. It had to do wid de rights of man, and it appeared to make out dat

"DIS CLIMATE AM TOO COLD FUR HIM."

one man was jest as good as another, no matter what his color, condition or de length of his heels. Instead of gwine back home arter makin' dat speech de Hon. Clingstone decided to hang around fur a spell, and he's hangin' yit. If Bruders Givendarn Jones and Samuel Shin want to take a free boarder into deir cabins, I hev no objections, but de time has arrove when I also want to say somethin' 'bout de rights of man.

"It has pained and grieved me to observe de effects of dat speech. Feelin' dat he was as good as any other man on airth, Waydown Beebe has put a mortgage on his mevl to buy hisself a fifteen dollar dress coat.

"Six weeks ago Elder Penstock was satisfied to drink cold water and lib mostly on puddin' and milk. Yesterday he was orderin' in a case of beer and a gallon of ice cream.

"A few days ago Pickles Smith would hev climbed over de fence to make room fur a white man to pess, but today he wants all de road fur hisself and am wishin' dat some white man would jest try to crowd him de least bit.

"I notice a swagger in de gait of Nicodemus White and a surprisin' air of independence in de way Judge Carter walks into a grocery and inquires de price of pineapples.

"Three weeks ago State Rights Henderson thought a pair of cowhide shoes good nuff fur him. He appears yere dis evenin' wearin' patent leathers dat cost fo' dollars, and instead of walkin' five blocks on foot he took de street kyar.

"Two months ago Jubilashun Scott was so humble dat he dasn't assert dat Columbus disklivered America, but dis afternoon he was swellin' around town and offerin' to lick any man who denied dat Noah's ark was painted blue.

"Up to a few days ago any member of dis club ridin' on a street kyar would hev bin ashamed to keep his seat while a woman of any color stood up. Three evenin's ago I saw Washington Blair, Judas Brown and Telegraph Jones hangin' right to der seats like grim death, while fo' women was hangin' to de straps. When dey was spoke to by a white man who had gin up his seat long befo', dey sassid him back.

"I see a change in Watermillon Carter, Emancipation Hardee and Previously Green, and I see it in Kurnel Cabill, Sundown Jackson and Come-along Harper. Humble Black am no longer humble, and Retirin' Davis isn't on de retire any mo'.

"In his speech befo' dis club de Hon. Clingstone was fool nuff to declar' dat de Lawd dun created all men ekal and meant dat one man should hev jest as much as another. Yo' hev evidently been asses nuff to believe him and am actin' accordingly. If somebody dun told yo' dat all hosses was created ekal and dat de scrub boss was jest as good as de race boss, yo'd laugh at him.

"Samuel Shin am a breeder and dealer in dawgs. He's got curs and poodles and setters and terriers fur sale. He'll sell yo' a cur dawg fur a dollar or two, but when yo' want a collic or a greyhound yo' hev got to come down wid $25. Why? If all men and all dawgs am created ekal, why should one cost more dan another?

"Yo' kin go down to de auction places and buy a work horse fur fo'ty dollars, but if yo' dun want a race boss yo' may hev to pay thousands. If one boss am de same as another, how does dis come about? Yo' jest put it down in black and white dat dar's about fo'teen different sorts of men in dis world and dat when a one X man gits de idee dat he's as good as a three X man he's shorely breedin' trouble fur hisself.

"De Hon. Clingstone gibs us to understand dat one man has jest as much right to dis world's goods as another an' some of yo' am idiots nuff to believe him. De only right dat yo' or any other livin' man has got is a chance to aim yo'r way, an' yo' can't allus git dat.

"If yo' kin git a few dollars ahead an' make dem few dollars bring yo' in a few dollars mo', dat's all right, but yo' jest dun keep yo'r hands off de basket of cokenuts in front of de grocery. Yo' may argy dat dey belong to yo' as much as to de grocer, but arter three months in jail yo' will probably see de difference.

"People am gwine around ebery day an' sayin' dat no man has a right to be wof a million dollars while another man wants fur bread. Dar bain't no question of right or wrong 'bout it. One man will git ahead of another in money makin', an' yo' can't help it. Yo' might as well say dat one boss has no bizness to gallop in under de wire while another am fudin' away his time on de backstretch.

"No man was ever yit bo'n into dis world who didn't have a show to git along. Mebbe he has to begin life in a sawmill, but it depends upon hisself how long he stays dar. Yo' will find mighty few o' de rich men of today who wasn't as pore as skim milk when dey started out in life. If dey hev hustled and worked hard and been cute and forced luck, why should we be down on 'em?

"When yo' find a pusson arguin' dat all property order be divided up, yo' jest trace him back and yo'll find dat he has sot on de fence thirty days fur ebery day he's worked. He aches to git sunthin fur nuthin. He wants some one else to climb de tree fur de chestnuts.

"I reckon yo'll find de Hon. Clingstone to be a man of dis sort. In de spring, while other folks am plantin' yams and watermillions, he's shootin' craps or sleepin' in de sun. When summer comes and de yams and watermillions are ripe, he's ready to argy dat one man has no bizness to hev a hundred millions while another has none.

"Yo' want to understand dat a man am what he am. He's hisself and nobody else. De Lawd didn't dun put him yere to be great or small, rich or pore. It's all left to hisself as to what he shall become. Yo' must gib him half de road, and he must do de same by yo'.

"De man who gits it into his head dat becase he happens to be bo'n he's at de top ob de heap is half fool. I hev dis evenin' sent word to de Hon. Clingstone dat dis climate am too cold fur him and dat he'd better pack up his bundle and move on. It's none ob my bizness what he may say to yo' as individuals, but when I find his doctrines brung into dis Limekiln club as de things to swar by it becums my dooty to move in de matter.

"At our last meetin' I accidentally left fo' lemons on all desk. Some of yo' who believe dat my property should be divided up hev divided dese lemons. Not only dat, but yo' didn't even leave de seeds fur me. Dat's 'bout de way sich ideas work out.

"I am told dat Givendarn Jones was swaggin' around a day or two ago and declarin' dat he was jest as good a man as de next and dat if he had his rights he would also own a cabin. As for his bein' as good as I am, we won't waste any breath disputin', but I want to make it mighty plain to him and to all de res' of yo' dat yo'r theories want to stop right dar. If any of yo' go on to argy dat de taters and pumpkins and squashes and onions in my cellar am his jest as much as mine, yo'll git sich a dose of bird shot dat yo'll linger in bed for three months arterward. Let us now break de meetin' in two and go home."

NO SERMON AT FUNERAL.

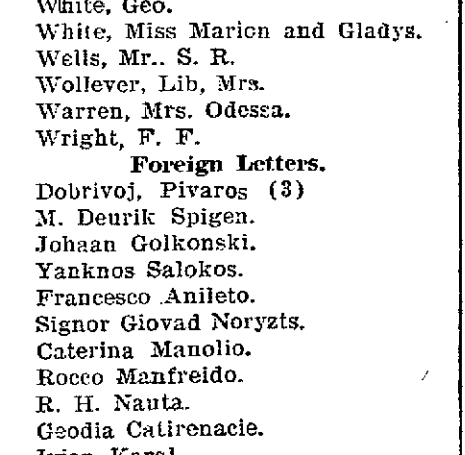

Columbus Grove, March 7.—Although identified with every branch of church work, Mrs. Sarah Moore, aged 88, requested that no funeral sermon be delivered over her dead body. She was the daughter of a Presbyterian minister. In her childhood Mrs. Moore learned a hymn and some time ago she repeated it and it was written down and sung at her funeral. A history of her life written by herself was also read. Prayer was offered and Rev. S. D. Conger, her pastor, expressed regret that Mrs. Moore's request precluded so much being said about her Christian life.

Half a century ago the number of Germans residing in Paris was 80,000.

MRS. CORA B. MILLER MAKES A FORTUNE

Started a Few Years Ago With No Capital and Now Employs Nearly One Hundred Clerks and Stenographers.

Until a few years ago Mrs. Cora B. Miller lived in a manner similar to that of thousands of other very poor women of the average small town and village. She now resides in her own palatial brown-stone residence, and is considered one of the most successful business women in the United States.

Mrs. Miller's New Residence. Earned in Less Than One Year.

Several years ago Mrs. Miller learned of a mild and simple preparation that cured herself and several friends of female weakness and piles. She was besieged by so many women needing treatment that she decided to furnish it to those who might call for it. She started with only a few dollars' capital, and the ten years' suffering that and wonderful merit, producing many cures, which doctors and other remedies failed, the demand grew so rapidly she was several times compelled to seek larger quarters. She is now one of the city's largest office buildings, which she owns, and almost one hundred clerks and stenographers are required to assist in this great business.

Every woman suffering with pains in the head, back and bowels, bearing-down feelings, nervousness, creeping sensations up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weakness, or piles from any cause, should sit right down and send her name and address to Mrs. Cora B. Miller, Box 633, Kokomo, Ind., and receive by mail (free of charge in plain wrapper) a 50-cent box of her marvelous medicine, also for valuable book, which every woman should have.

Remember, this offer will not last long, for thousands and thousands of women who are suffering will take advantage of this generous means of getting cured. So if you are ailing, do not suffer another day, but send your name and address to Mrs. Miller for the book and medicine before the $10,000.00 worth is gone.

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP.

The farmers of this section are making permanent improvements by fencing and under drainage. Large quantities of wire have been purchased.

Mrs. L. B. Dumm, who has been seriously ill for the past three weeks, is able to be up again.

Carl Ritchey and family of Franklin's Addition, have moved to the George Varner farm.

The annual election of officers of St. John's Lutheran church will be held next Sunday, March 10th. A full attendance of the members is desired as a full set of officers is to be chosen, no election having been held last year.

Mrs. Maranda Varner has moved to her former home, northeast of Newark in Madison township.

Albert Swinehart and family will move to the James Dushinier farm near Linnville.

A trip of the Good Roads advocates over our roads at the present time would be a valuable educational feature. The roads have not been worse for several years.

The special services at the Lutheran church were postponed on account of sickness to a later date.

TAX LAWS OF OHIO

Expert Lawson Purdy Tells How to Improve Them.

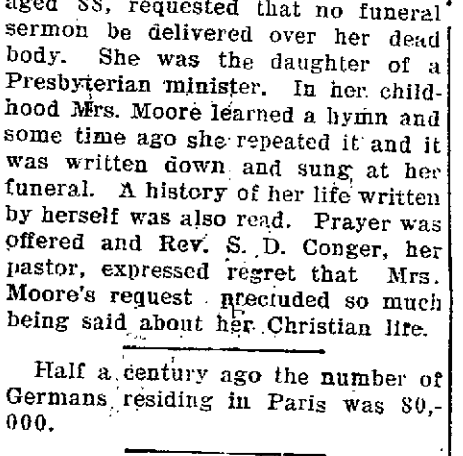

Too Many Constitutional Provisions Work Injury—Special Taxes Breed Extravagance.

Perhaps no single individual knows more about the taxation evils of the several states than Mr. Lawson Purdy, president of the Department of Taxes and Assessments of the city of New York. Mr. Purdy has given the subject of taxation a lifetime of study. In discussing "Improved Tax Laws for Ohio," Mr. Purdy said:

"From an economic standpoint the general property tax for state purposes, although an exceedingly crude plan, worked fairly well under such conditions as prevailed in Ohio in 1851, when the constitution was adopted. Then there were no railroads and practically no other public service corporations, no great franchise values, comparatively little and other paper evidences of the ownership of things or of an interest in things. The urban population was a comparatively small factor in state affairs and city problems had assumed little relative importance. With the growth of cities and the great increase in the value of urban land, the distribution of the state burden under the general property tax became more and more unjust. In a primitive community, as in the poorer rural counties today, land has very little value, and the property interests of those communities are chiefly in personal property and improvements on land.

"When all state revenue is obtained from special taxes laid at unvarying rates, there is no elasticity, and no way in which the revenue can be adjusted to the needs. This breeds extravagance, to which the recent expenditure of $9,000,000 on decorating and furnishing the state capitol of Pennsylvania is a witness.

"During the last 12 years in the state of New York we have had an extensive experience with what happens when an attempt is made to obtain all state revenue by special taxes. In 1894 New York still relied mainly for state revenue upon the general property tax. In that year the total

state revenue was about $13,000,000, of which one-third came from special taxes. In 1906 the state revenue exceeded $27,000,000, all of it from special taxes. Now, plans are being made for increasing the state revenue to $55,000,000, and it seems probable that that amount will be needed; this means an increase in the expenditure almost three times as great as it was 12 years ago.

"Constitutions are taken off the shelf and dusted when the minority wants to overrule the popular will. Everything about taxation in a constitution is dangerous. The law reports are full of cases brought to prevent the collection of taxes on the ground of their constitutionality under such constitutions as that of Ohio. Where a state constitution is silent as to taxation, only the Federal Constitution must be obeyed. Perhaps few persons realize the adequacy of the Constitution of the United States to guarantee our fundamental rights. Those rights should be protected by a constitution, but when a constitutional convention attempts to impose its notions of taxation upon the present and succeeding generations it commits an impertinence if not a crime. The Federal Constitution protects citizens of other states for their property or business by any state; prevents interference with interstate commerce; prohibits the taxation by a state of property outside the jurisdiction of the state and restrains all states from taxing one person more than another under like circumstances. How can men desire greater protection from themselves.

"The provisions of the Constitution of Ohio relating to taxation were adopted in 1851, at a time when it began to be the fashion to put heroic codes of laws into the constitution. "The Ohio Constitution is so bad that any thought and effort now expended on improving the tax system of Ohio without amending its Constitution is practically wasted. You are tied down to a theory abandoned everywhere else in the world, and proven here in the United States by over a century of experience to be the most debauching, oppressive and stupid theory that was ever devised. The Constitution of Ohio declares that all real and personal property shall be taxed by a uniform rule at its true value in money. It provides a rule which is utterly and absolutely impossible to enforce, and which if it could be enforced would produce the most abominable injustice that was ever perpetrated."

NEWS OF DEATH OF EDWIN KEATING

WHICH OCCURRED IN COLUMBUS WAS SADLY RECEIVED IN GRANVILLE.

Lecture at Granville by Prof. A. L. Judson and Other Happenings in the Village.

Granville, March 7.—The news of the death of Edwin R. Keating, the 21 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Keating of Columbus, was received here with much regret, where the elder Mr. Keating was well known by many of the older residents of Granville, he having formerly lived here and graduated at Denison University. The death of Edwin, his son, occurred at the home, 1317 East Broad street, on Wednesday evening after an illness of seven or eight days with typhoid fever. The young man left college while a student at the Ohio State University to enter the employ of the Ohio Trust company three years ago. In less than a year's time he rose to the position of savings teller. While in the university he was a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. His father is a member of the prominent law firm of Booth, Keating & Peters.

The lecture delivered by Prof. Arthur Judson of the Conservatory of Music of Denison University in Recital Hall Wednesday night was highly interesting as well as instructive. It was the first one of a series of five lectures on Musical Appreciation by Professor Judson, and many of the music loving people of the village were present. The lecture Wednesday evening consisted of Bach and Handel and their works, illustrated by means of the lantern. A number of the masterpieces of these great men were played on the new pianola and were greatly appreciated. Following is the program that was carried out:

1—Lecture on John Sebastian Bach and George Frederick Handel (illustrated.)

2—Musical illustrations:
Bach, Bourree (3d Cello Sonata); Gavotte (6th Cello Sonata)

Handel, Largo (from opera of Xerxes) The Harmonious Blacksmith. J. S. Bach was born in 1685 in Eisenach and died in Leipzig in 1750.

G. F. Handel was born in 1685 in Halle and died in London in 1759.

At the last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. nominating committee it was recommended that the Y. M. C. A. officers for next year be C. W. Kemper, president; F. R. McArthur, vice president; C. W. Atwater, recording secretary; J. H. Maloney, treasurer; and Earl R. Bull, corresponding secretary. The election will be held March 18. It is understood that the above names are simply recommendations, and that any member will be free to nominate further. The last meeting was led by Prof. Clark W. Chamberlain. His subject was "The Mind," and he selected for his Scripture reading, "Christ's visit to Jerusalem when twelve years of age." Dr. Hunt will lead the next meeting, and his subject will be "The Spirit."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marsh, highly respected residents of this place, were the recipients of a delightful surprise on Wednesday night when a number of their friends came in on them most unexpectedly at their home on Granger street. The evening was spent in games and in having a good social time generally. During the evening delicious refreshments were served and all had a splendid time. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Pence and daughter Josephine, Mr. and Mrs. R. Moore and son Fred, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hobart, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atwell, and son Lynn, Miss Emma Allison, Miss Blanche Horton, Miss Bertha McCreary.

Another well attended meeting of Altamaha Lodge No. 596, Knights of Pythias of this place, was held on

MRS. FAIRBANKS ILL FROM STRESS OF WASHINGTON SOCIAL LIFE.

MRS. CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Vice President and his daughter, Mrs. Timmons, were among those who entertained at luncheon yesterday. They also gave a dinner at night at their home in K street. Though Mrs. Fairbanks has come home from Atlantic City much benefited in health, she is still far from well and so far takes no active part in the social life of their home.

Wednesday night, quite a number of Newark brothers being present. Considerable work of importance was transacted, among which was the conferring of the Knight rank on seven candidates. Brother P. L. Pratt of Newark ably filled the Chancery Commander's chair during the team work. Altamaha lodge is having a big boom and the membership has been largely increased during the last few months.

There was a large attendance at the second "Senior Circus" at Recital Hall on Tuesday evening, and the following program was much enjoyed:

Oration, "The Realism of Science"—Charles Thomas Prose.

Oration, "Are We a Christian Nation?"—Horace Preston.

Oration, "Our Minstrels"—Daniel S. Dye.

Oration, "Unconscious Power"—Ira Donald Huston.

Music, "To Spring" (Grieg)—Miss Edna Stevens.

Oration, "Captains of Industry"—William Elmer Forsythe.

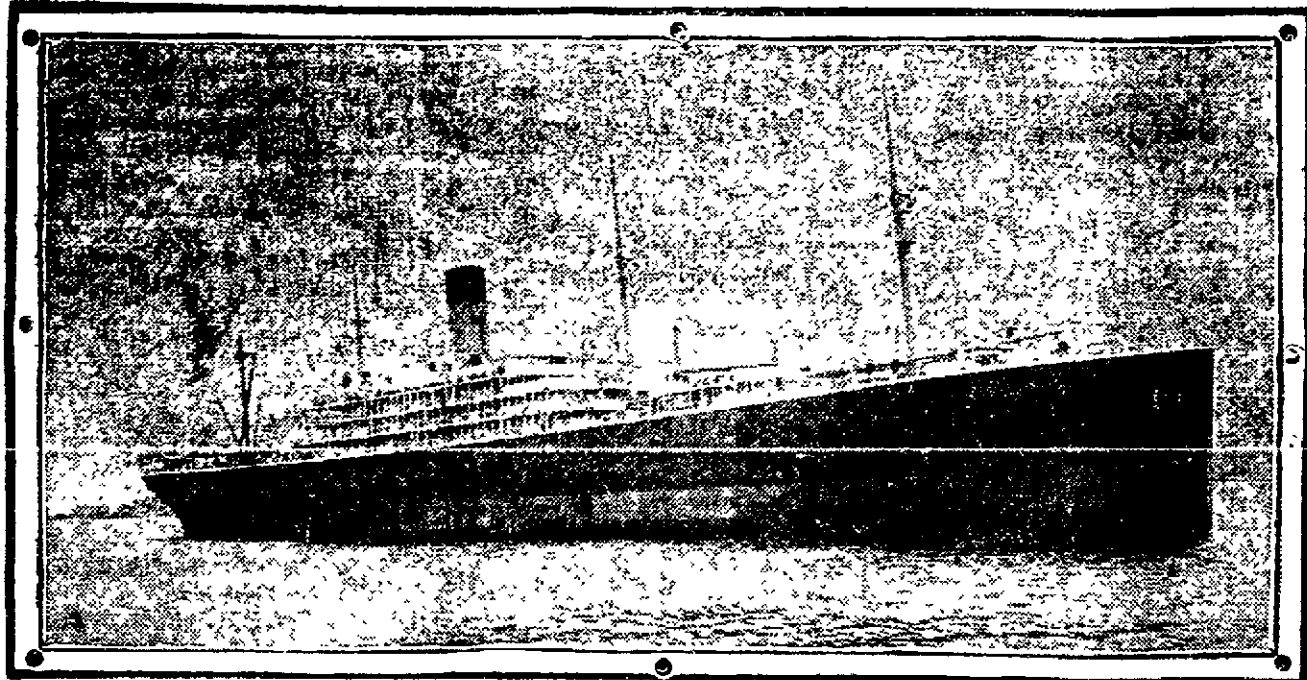

Oration, "The Work of Daniel Webster"—Frank Hunt Cox.

Dr. Edgar James Banks field director of the recent Babylonian expedition of the University of Chicago, has been engaged by Denison University to deliver his interesting lecture on "Babylon, the Oldest City in the World," at Recital Hall, Monday evening, March 11 at 8:15 o'clock.

The lecture represents the high-water mark in archaeological research, yet is popular in form, with interesting bits of adventure, mingled with descriptions of local conditions, methods of work, remarkable discoveries, and an illuminating treatment of the entire subject of the excavation of long-buried cities. The lecture will be finely illustrated with the stereopticon, and admission will be free, the university assuming the entire expense.

GREAT NORTHERN STEAMER DAKOTA ASHORE.

YOKOHAMA, March 7.—The Great Northern steamship Dakota, went ashore in the Bay of Tokio. All passengers are safe and the agents of the vessel are hopeful of saving her. One of the largest type of cargo and passenger vessels ever built in the United States, the Dakota was launched on February 6, 1901. She and her sister ship, the Minnesota, were ordered by the Great Northern Steamship company, and while they were designed by Mr. William A. Fairbairn, they embraced many ideas of Mr. James J. Hill.

45th ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR WEDDING

CELEBRATED BY THE WORTHY COUPLE'S FAMILY ON WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6.

The Event Was Planned and Executed by the Children as a Pleasant Surprise.

Wednesday, March 6, was the 45th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. William Christian, highly esteemed residents of this city. The children of this most worthy couple, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christian and William, Lydia and Mary Christian, planned a surprise on their parents, and it was carried out most successfully. At an early hour a number of the intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Christian called at the home, 107 West Main street, and assisted in celebrating the event in a most suitable manner. Mr. and Mrs. Christian, although greatly surprised, were equal to the occasion and entertained their self invited guests in their usual hospitable manner. Among those present besides the family were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Green, Mr. and Mrs. R. Shide, Mr. Christian Kammerer, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ankele, and Mrs. Henry Krepes. The evening was spent in having a social time, which was seasoned with an elegant supper.

During the evening Mr. Shide read a paper containing reminiscences of associations in former days, in which the names of persons now dead and who were formerly well known figured, among them being Joseph Kirchgraber who died in Springfield, O., some years ago and Antone Klum a former well known resident of Newark, but who has been dead for some years. During the evening some splendid music, both vocal and instrumental, was rendered, which was greatly enjoyed by all. The affair will long linger in the memory of all who were present.

Mr. Christian was born in Newark 66 years ago, and has lived here all his life, honored and respected by all who know him. On the 6th of March, 1862, he was married to Miss Amelia Kretschmar, who was born in Saxony, Germany, and who came to Newark when she was a very young girl. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Shide, a brother of Mr. Richard Shide. All who were present at the 45th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Christian's marriage expressed the wish that they might attend their golden wedding, five years hence.

DEATH RELIEVED HER SUFFERINGS

MRS. ELIZABETH BONHAM DIED THURSDAY MORNING AT THE SANITARIUM.

Aged Woman Was Frightfully Burned on February 24th, in a Lamp Explosion.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bonham, the aged woman who was frightfully burned in a kerosene lamp explosion at her home, Western avenue, near Eleventh street, on Sunday, February 21, died at the Newark Sanitarium on Thursday morning at 7:15.

The aged woman was terribly burned and has suffered intensely since the accident until death relieved her. She leaves one son, Reason Bonham, an employee of a local livery stable.

The accident which resulted in the death of Mrs. Bonham was believed by some to have been due to an attempt to kindle a fire in a grate by throwing kerosene into it from a lamp, which had been done by Mrs. Bonham on previous occasions in the presence of neighbors. The aged woman stated to the Advocate however, on the morning following the accident, that the lamp was an old broken one, and that it exploded of its own accord. She picked it up in her apron and started to put it out of the room, but was caught by the flames and terribly burned before she could accomplish it. A man living near the Bonham residence, who witnessed the accident, and whose name could not be learned, rushed to her and heroically fought the flames, but did not succeed in extinguishing them until too late, as has been proven. The man who attempted the rescue was badly burned about the hands.

HANNA WILL ALLOW HIS WIFE'S DIVORCE.

Cleveland, O., March 7.—Dan R. Hanna will offer no defense to the charges of gross neglect, abandonment and extreme cruelty laid against him in his wife's suit for divorce. Mrs. Hanna's petition will not be contested, the question of alimony will be left to agreement between counsel, and even on the subject of the custody of the five year old daughter, named for her mother, Elizabeth Gordon Hanna, there will be no contest.

PUBLIC SALE

I will offer at public auction on Saturday, March 9, 1907, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., at the southeast corner of the Public Square, in Newark, Ohio, territorial rights in the LUCAS PATENT CISTERN, CATCHBASINS and CESSPOOL MOLDS. Patents numbered 809199 and 820224.

Sale will be made to the highest bidder without regard to price.

The State of Ohio, to be disposed of by counties. Terms of sale—$10.00 cash on the day of sale, $10.00 on delivery of deed. Second payment to be made within 30 days. Balance in notes, due one year from date without interest. The Lucas Molds are the most successful molds on the market today. They have no equal.

Easy to take down; easy to set up. No occasion for repairs of any kind. Not a set screw, tap or bolt in the whole mold. Forms will be set up on day of sale. Comparison with any other mold challenged.

The use of these molds in the making of cisterns is no experiment. Thousands of cement cisterns are now in use throughout the Central States. Cisterns made with these molds give perfect satisfaction. I will also offer for sale on same day my cistern business in the City of Newark and town of Utica, and will turn over to the purchaser all orders now on hand, together with the good will of one of the best established business in Central Ohio. One cesspool form, three cistern forms, and one steel mortar box to be included free of charge to the purchaser of the Newark plant.

To be sold for cash or well-secured notes. Accounts for the last three years open to inspection of anyone interested. This will be a great opportunity for a man with a small capital to purchase a good business at a reasonable figure.
